

Set Schedule For Royal Visit Here

Heavy Program Highlighted By Visits With Young Folk

Full schedule for the public appearances of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip on their Victoria visit was announced by the provincial government today.

Still an official secret, however, is where the Royal couple will go during their three-day private holiday on Vancouver Island, although it is believed they will make Government House their headquarters.

Highlights of the Victoria plans will be visits with children.

Scouts, Guides As Guards

Arriving here at 5 p.m. Oct. 14, the Royal pair will be greeted by a gun salute and a procession of 2,000 Boy Scouts and Girl Guides.

They will spend the whole of Oct. 15 in public appearances and then start their three-day holiday which ends on Oct. 19 when they leave for the mainland from Nanaimo.

Plans for the Royal visit were announced by Provincial Secretary W. T. Straith.

The program for the visit is as follows:

Saturday, Oct. 13—Their Royal Highnesses will arrive in Vancouver and will be met by Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Clarence Wallace and Premier and Mrs. Byron Johnson.

Sunday, Oct. 14—The Royal couple will board the destroyer H.M.C.S. Crusader and will arrive at the C.P.R. dock in Victoria at 5 p.m.

A Royal Guard will be stationed on Belleville Street at Menzies and will be inspected by Her Royal Highness. At the same time, a gun salute will be fired by a battery formed on Belleville Street, facing across the harbor.

At 5.15 they will leave for Government House, driving slowly via Belleville, Douglas, Cook and Rockland. Two thousand Boy Scouts and Girl Guides will line part of the route.

Monday, Oct. 15—At 10 a.m. they will leave Government House and proceed by way of Rockland, Cook, Pandora, Blanshard, Fisgard and Douglas to City Hall where they will be welcomed by Mayor George.

At 10.35, the Royal party will leave City Hall, driving slowly to the Parliament Buildings via Douglas, Humboldt, Government and Belleville Streets. A Royal Guard will be stationed in front of the buildings which will be inspected by the Princess.

After the inspection they will be taken to the Legislative Chamber where they will meet M.L.A.'s and their wives and holders of the Victoria Cross.

Will See Indian Dancers

At 11.20, the Prince and Princess will be taken to Thunderbird Park, where a short Indian ceremony, including Indian dances, will be given.

At 11.50, the Royal Couple will be taken to the Empress Hotel, where the Royal Suite will be awaiting them. At 12.30, the Prince and Princess will be tendered a luncheon by the Government of British Columbia in the hotel ballroom.

At 2, their Royal Highnesses will commence a drive through Greater Victoria.

Special arrangements are to be made so that school children from Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt will be assembled at central points. The Royal procession will proceed at a very slow pace passing the school centres but, in view of the length of the drive, will speed up in between. The route from the Empress is as follows:

Government, Fort, Cook, Rockland, Oak Bay Avenue, Hampshire Road, Cranmore Road, Cadboro Bay Road, Port, Yates, Douglas, Cloverdale, Quadra, Hillside, Government, Bay, Alston, Johnson, Esquimalt Road, Head, Lamson, Esquimalt Road.

At 3.10, their Royal Highnesses will arrive at Admiral's House, H.M.C. Dockyard, where Rear Admiral W. B. Greer, Pacific Coast Flag Officer, will present them to senior naval and military officers.

At 4, the Royal party will leave the Dockyard for the Joint Services College at Royal Roads, where the Princess will inspect cadets and tea will be served.

At 5.30, the Prince and Princess will be brought back to town to see the illumination of buildings at the inner harbor and then will be taken back to Government House.

There will be no public appearances for Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Friday, Oct. 19, Their Royal Highnesses will arrive at Nanaimo at 9.45 and will be received at City Hall by Mayor Earle Eastwood. After meeting mayors of Port Alberni, Alberni, Courtenay, Duncan, Ladysmith and the reeve of North Cowichan and their wives, the Royal party will be taken to the Nanaimo Civic arena where, at 10.05, 4,500 school children of the district will greet them with song.

At 10.20, the Royal party will leave the arena for embarkation on H.M.C.S. Crusader, which will depart for the mainland at 10.30.

Primate Will Be Chosen By Synod Today

Meeting of the Electoral College of the General Synod of the Anglican Church to name a new primate of all Canada resumed this afternoon at Christ Church Cathedral.

It was expected at the opening of the meeting that the new primate would be known before noon, but the House of Bishops of the church were slow in forwarding three nominations to the Lower House of laymen and clergy.

The Lower House makes the final decision.

It was not known how long it would take following resumption of the meeting at 1.45 this afternoon to make the selection from the three names proposed.

The new primate will be installed at the most colorful of traditional ceremonies of the church at 8 this evening, at the Cathedral.

The ceremony will not be open to the general public. Only holders of special tickets will be allowed to witness the spectacle.

Vietnam Government Signs U.S. Agreement

SAIGON, Indo-China (Reuters)—The French-supported Vietnam government today signed an agreement with the United States accepting $23,500,000 of economic aid under the Marshall plan. It was the first international agreement between the two countries.

Indonesia Will Sign Peace Treaty

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian government decided today to sign the Japanese peace treaty. In a formal ministerial statement announced after a two-hour cabinet meeting, Indonesia joins Ceylon, Pakistan and the nations of Indo-China in deciding to go along with the United States draft treaty. But whether parliament will ratify the treaty is another question.

Royal Jubilee Hospital Will Have Cancer Clinic

Victoria is to have a new cancer clinic for treatment as well as diagnosis of the "killer" disease.

It will be established at Royal Jubilee Hospital under the aegis of the B.C. Cancer Foundation and is expected to be in full operation by the end of November.

Dr. E. H. W. Elkington, chief of staff at the hospital, said in his announcement of the clinic today that appointments to the staff of the new institution will be made shortly from among well-qualified physicians practicing here.

In charge will be Dr. H. H. Murphy who recently retired as head radiologist at Jubilee. Dr. N. S. Lockyer, newly-appointed radiotherapist at the hospital who is now on his way here from England, will be active in the new clinic.

Safe But Worried

KOREAN PEACE SEEN AS REMOTE AS EVER

Latest Red Notes Reject Allied Denials Of Responsibility For Kaesong Violations

TOKYO (AP)—New Communist notes swirled today in the brimming cauldron of wasted words that left peace in Korea as remote as ever.

Sharp fighting flashed again on the explosive western front while the Kaesong armistice talks remained suspended for the 15th straight day.

The new Red notes rejected the latest Allied denials of responsibility for neutrality zone violations at Kaesong. There was no Red answer to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's insistence on selection of a new truce site.

Red China's Peiping radio broadcast the two new messages from North Korean Lt.-Gen. Nam Il, senior Red delegate, to U.N. Admiral C. Turner Joy, top U.N. negotiator.

Both notes rejected Joy's three denials Tuesday of Red charges as "completely unsatisfactory."

REJECTS DENIALS

One note brushed aside Joy's insistence that no Allied plane dropped a flare inside the Kaesong neutral zone the night of Aug. 29.

Nam's second note rejected Joy's denial of Red charges that South Korean troops killed Red military police in the neutral zone on Aug. 19 and Aug. 30.

Said Nam today: "No denials of facts can free your side from the serious responsibility that you must bear for these two incidents. Our side has adequate witnesses and material evidence to confirm the inescapable responsibility of your side."

Extra Old-Age Pension Session Starts Oct. 22

People in B.C. between 65 and 69 will get old age assistance starting January 1, on a means test basis, was disclosed today.

Premier Byron Johnson announced the provincial government has decided to support the pension scheme.

At the same time he announced the special session of the Legislature to approve the new pensions will be advanced from November 6 to October 22. This is because all the M.L.A.'s will be in Victoria to meet Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip the previous week, and will not have to return to their homes.

Under the pension plan giving allowances to the 65-69 group they will get $40 a month, half paid by Ottawa and half by B.C., but on an "eligibility basis."

HOUSE TO DECIDE

Whether they will get the $10 a month cost of living bonus paid to over 70 pensioners will be decided by the Legislature.

In the meantime, the Premier announced that registration will start shortly on the 65-69 group so that all those eligible can get their allowances starting the first of the year.

Registration of 70 and over people who will get pensions from Ottawa regardless of means has been under way for the last six weeks.

Gromyko Heavily Guarded On Assassination Report

Pearson Warns Red Chinese Against Force

Minister Puts Blame On Peking Officials

UP Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Canada bluntly told Red China today it could not "shoot its way" into the Japanese peace conference in a tense session highlighted by a reported plot on the life of Russia's Andrei Gromyko.

Speaking to the seventh, plenary session after the Arab bloc had served notice it would sign the treaty with reservations, Canadian Foreign Minister Lester Pearson said the "Peking government must bear the blame" for its absence from the conference.

Obviously addressing himself to the Soviet bloc, which demanded Red China's inclusion in the conference, Pearson said that had the Chinese stayed out of the Korean war they "might have been invited."

China must learn, he said, "that it cannot shoot its way into the United Nations and force its way into a peace conference."

As the conference moved forward at a rapid pace, with the signing of the treaty set for tomorrow, a high American official revealed that the United States had assurances that 49 nations will sign the pact. He said that only Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia will abstain.

RESERVING RIGHT

But Philippines Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Romulo announced his country would sign only with "certain misgivings." He said his country was reserving the right to negotiate a broader reparations agreement with Tokyo than the pact provides.

Delegates representing Syria and Saudi Arabia told the seventh business session of the conference they would follow the lead of Egypt, king-pin in the Arab sphere.

The Egyptians, yesterday, announced strong opposition to treaty provision which would permit foreign troops to be based on Japan's soil.

TOMORROW'S SIGNING

As the 52-nation conference opened, the United States announced its plans to jam the treaty through to early signing tomorrow. Speeches were to be concluded today.

"We'll go all night, if necessary," a member of the U.S. delegation said. "We expect to sign the Japanese Treaty tomorrow morning."

Level Crossing Crash Kills Five In N.B.

MCGIVNEY JUNCTION, N.B. (CP)—Five persons were killed today when a car crashed into the coal tender of a 41-car Canadian National Railway freight at a level crossing here.

Four were killed in the crash and another, an unidentified woman, died en route to hospital at Fredericton.

The dead: August Lapelgne, St. Simeon, N.B., driver of the car; Antoine Nowlan, Bathurst, N.B.; Odicia Saulnier, 7, St. Simeon, and her mother, Melaine Saulnier.

The five victims were the only occupants of the car and there were no witnesses.

The front of the car was badly smashed but the train was moving slowly and the wreckage was not carried for any distance.

Maj. G. K. Mason, commanding officer of the army's 32nd ordnance depot, two miles from the crash, took the depot's ambulance to the scene to render assistance.

Dead Soldier Was From Wetaskiwin

OTTAWA (CP)—Sgt. David Woodward, who died from injuries received in an automobile accident Sept. 4, near Lindsay, Ont., was a native of Wetaskiwin, Alta., the Army reported today.

Amplifying previous reports, which gave the soldier's hometown as Edmonton, the Army said Sgt. Woodward was 32, and had a wife living at Camp Borden, where he was stationed. The accident occurred while Woodward was returning to Camp Borden from leave in Montreal.

MARIA MONTEZ

Noted Movie Queen Victim Of Drowning

PARIS (AP)—Movie actress Maria Montez died here today, apparently from drowning in her bathtub.

She was found unconscious in the bath by her sister, who immediately called a doctor and firemen. The latter used artificial respiration for three hours but were unable to resuscitate her.

The actress was married to Jean Pierre Aumont, French actor. They have been living in France for about two years. It was in their home in suburban Surcouf that she died.

Miss Montez was a native of the Dominican Republic.

Beginning in 1941, she had appeared in many pictures which emphasized her siren-like qualities of sex appeal. These pictures included: "The Invisible Woman," "That Night in Rio," "Bombay Clipper," "The Mystery of Marie Roget," "Arabian Nights," "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," "Cobra Woman," "Pirates of Monterey" and "Siren of Atlantis."

Miss Montez, noted for her Latin spitfire personality, said of her age that she was "still in my 20s."

New Soviet Tax Held Violation Of Agreements

BERLIN (AP)—The western Allies protested to the Russians today that the new Soviet-zone tax violates four-power agreements guaranteeing free access to Berlin.

By this action the Allies went over the heads of the West German government and made the highway toll a matter for four-power consideration.

The tax was imposed last week without warning by the East German Communist government. It affects traffic on Berlin's lifeline to the west—the Berlin-Helmstedt super-highway.

East Germans contended they had a right to tax western vehicles because they made most use of the road and should pay for its upkeep. The Allies and West Germans rejected this, saying the toll was an arbitrary means of trying to choke off Berlin's commerce with the West.

Lord Mayor In Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Sir Denys Lawson, Lord Mayor of London, and Lady Lawson arrived here today from Winnipeg.

The Lord Mayor and his sword-bearer were met by Toronto's Mayor Hiram McCallum when they stepped off their plane at Malton airport.

Stone Proves Bomb

LONDON (AP)—An earth-moving machine, excavating for a building site Thursday, struck what appeared to be a heavy stone.

Workmen dug down and discovered the obstruction was a "live" 500-pound bomb. Experts removed the fuse in a ticklish 15-minute operation.

F.B.I. Gets Tip Soviet Envoy Traffic Plot Victim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An overturned truck blocked both traffic lanes as Russia's Andrei Gromyko sped to today's session of the Japanese peace treaty conference.

His heavily increased police escort, speeding at 40 miles an hour, led the Russians' cars into the path of oncoming traffic, which was cleared by sirens, and all made it safely around the obstruction.

The truck had overturned some time before the Russians reached the place.

The accident occurred within hours after the Federal Bureau of Investigation had heard a report that an attempt would be made to assassinate the Russian deputy foreign minister as he drove up "Bloody Bayshore" Highway to the session of the conference. The report said a truck would smash into Gromyko's car in an apparent accident.

As a result of the F.B.I. report, the Russian delegation was given an extraordinary police escort.

With sirens screaming and speedometers pointing to 70 miles an hour, the heavy police escort and the Russians topped the grade of "Boneyard Hill," just south of San Francisco.

In the path of the cars, blocking both northbound lanes, was an overturned truck, with two beer trucks lined up behind it.

Cars Swerve Into Traffic

The highway patrol car leading the parade swerved into the path of the oncoming traffic and all got by safely.

Although police generally expressed skepticism that any attempt would be made on Gromyko's life, the F.B.I. report stirred much excitement.

The F.B.I. notified state police. The report said White Russians, resentful of the Communists, had designed the plot.

Allies Turn Back Reds As Offensive Stiffens

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS (AP)—Allied troops drove Chinese Communists off two hills today on the western front where Reds earlier encircled two United Nations outposts.

Both surrounded units fought free. One immediately counter-attacked.

A front-line dispatch reported two companies of Reds fled from a hill without firing a shot after the Allies' artillery blasted them. The recaptured knoll is northwest of Yoncheon, which is seven miles north of the 38th parallel.

Further north U.N. infantrymen won a second hill after three hours of close infighting.

Reds fought and attacked all along the western hill at the front in actions that had the earmarks of a prelude to a new offensive.

In the mountainous east, stiffening Communist resistance checked two attacks by U.S. 2nd Division infantrymen.

Second Division troops were engaged in a pitched battle with Reds atop one ridge north of Yanguu. A 2nd Division assault on another hill was stalled by fiercely-resistant Reds.

Low-hanging clouds shrouded most of the battle area, hampering Allied warplanes and furnishing cover for Red troop movements.

Communist strikes at patrols indicated they wanted to move into the wide belt of no-man's-land which has separated opposing forces in the west for months.

An Allied divisional officer estimated the Communists suffered 2,000 casualties, including 400 killed.

Nurses apparently accompanied some of the attacking Communist outposts. The sound of women crying on the battlefield was reported by one American soldier.

Britain Lodges Demand For Mossadegh Ouster

LONDON (AP)—Oil talks between Britain and Iran reached a complete breakdown today following a thinly-veiled British demand that Iran throw out Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

The Foreign Office, stung by Mossadegh's threat to expel 350 British technicians from the shutdown Abadan refinery area unless Britain comes up with new proposals within 15 days, said Thursday night: "The recent speech by the Persian (Iranian) prime minister in the senate shows conclusively that no further negotiations with the present Persian government can produce any results."

The government now considers that the negotiations begun by the Lord Privy Seal, Richard R. Stokes, are no longer in suspense, but broken off.

WANT NEW PROPOSALS

This was regarded here as putting it squarely up to Iran to produce entirely new proposals as a basis for negotiations or bring in a new government to tackle the difficult problem.

Mossadegh could lose the premiership by parliamentary action. Or he might be decisively voted out of office in the Iranian general elections, scheduled for next month. It is doubtful, however, that the implied British ultimatum will be helpful to Mossadegh's opponents, considering

Duplessis Bridge Hearing Adjourned

THREE RIVERS, Que. (CP)—Judge Rene-Lippe today adjourned to Sept. 13 the hearing into the collapse of the Duplessis Bridge here Jan. 31, with the loss of four lives.

The adjournment, second since the hearing began late last month, followed testimony yesterday by Robert Eadie, chief engineer of the Dominion Bridge Company, builders of the bridge. He said an explosive charge could have caused marks of "heating" on one of the failures.

Bolshevist Dies MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today announced the death of Col.-Gen. E. A. Shchadenko, 60, veteran member of the Bolshevik party, described as "one of the outstanding builders of the Soviet Army."

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

TRAILS AND TIDDLERS

PERHAPS it was because I have for so long felt mildly resentful of the slurs cast at women drivers that I relished the opportunity of meeting Miss Kay Petre, who was in Victoria about a month ago with a party of representatives of the British motor industry and press.

For that dynamic little person won international fame as a racing motorist until a serious accident brought that phase of her career to an end—leaving her with scars which are still discernible on her attractive face. So what she doesn't know about cars and driving isn't worth knowing. During her brief visit here we chatted about various subjects, but the burden of her remarks was centred on the party's projected drive from Vancouver to Calgary.

ROCKY ROAD

MORE THAN one British Columbian whom she had met had seemed a bit apprehensive about the party's chances of doing the 1,000 miles in three days. One man who had just returned over the Big Bend highway confided to me that he felt sorry for the British drivers facing that in a small car. "It would shake the daylight out of them," he warned, "to say nothing of suffocating them with dust."

In the light of his warning and of her faith in her own—and her companions'—ability to conquer any road and any distance in the cars they were driving, I read with keen interest an account of the trip which appeared under her name in the Sunday Graphic, a London illustrated paper, of recent date.

SOLENN ADVISE

AFTER noting that "no pioneers blazing a trail over perilously treacherous territory have been given more solemn advice about the dangers they would meet than a little band of British drivers who arrived at Calgary, Canada, Miss Petre adds:

"Amid blinding dust, over a boulder-strewn, treacherous mountain road, 5,300 feet above sea level, I have just driven a small British 'ten' car."

DANGEROUS CORNERS

DESPITE Canadian advice that they would have "to crawl around the terribly dangerous corners," the former racing motorist boasts she "shot past every big, chromium-plated American car I met on the Kicking Horse trail. My little Austin cracked along at 50 to 60 miles an hour, taking corners in controlled slides and accelerating away in low gear out of the corners."

Over the whole trip the visitors averaged 40 miles an hour, despite their starting out "into what looked like a desert sand storm, as each car raised blinding clouds of white dust on the loose gravel surface." But the twelve came through without a scratch, the only enforced stop for one car being caused by a puncture.

SIGNAL TRIUMPH

AFTER NOTING that they passed a number of other little British "tiddlers" on the road—Ford Anglias, Morris Minors and Hillman Minxes—Miss Petre adds: "If it had not been for the gravel surface and the occasional bear lumbering out of the bushes in the National Park, it might have been a normal Sunday afternoon on the Brighton Road."

All of which signifies not only a signal triumph for a British car and a British woman driver but for the roads of British Columbia, which are so often derided by critics who don't appreciate the magnitude of the task faced in building them over our rocky terrain, or the excellence of the engineering and construction that goes into them.

Blood Flowing Freely To Aid B.C. Red Cross

A total of 120,456 pints of blood have been collected in British Columbia since the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service was inaugurated here four years ago, according to the 1950 annual report of the Red Cross Society.

During 1950, a total of 36,276 bottles, an overall weekly average of 697 bottles, was donated, the report said. The field clinics blood collections outnumbered the stationary clinics in Vancouver by almost two to one.

The Red Cross also reported membership in the society last year increased by 12,608, bringing the total membership in B.C. to 166,297.

Didn't Know Gun Hidden In Car

DUNCAN — William Norman Spall, charged with having a weapon concealed in his car, was acquitted in County Court Thursday when Judge L. A. Hanna held the Crown had failed to prove his knowledge of the weapon's presence. It was a .22 calibre rifle cut down to pistol size.

Spall claimed the gun belonged to his brother Carl and had been used for target practice in Sexsmith, Alta. Carl admitted placing the gun in the baggage compartment of the car when William set out for B.C.

J. A. Strachan appeared for the Crown, David Williams for defendant.

Temporary Aid Saves Hospital From Closing

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor Frank Goldsworthy said Thursday a "temporary solution" reached by North Vancouver General Hospital and the provincial government has averted an immediate hospital closure.

The announcement came only a few hours after two wholesale food suppliers had refused deliveries until accounts with the hospital for May, June and July had been paid.

Mayor Goldsworthy said then that if the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service did not produce the money to pay the account, the hospital would have to close.

He said tonight that a telephone call to Victoria had brought a promise of immediate payment of past accounts and an offer of additional aid.

Mayor Goldsworthy said a $100,000 deficit is expected by the end of the current fiscal year. "Our deficit as of this moment is $70,000."

The mayor blamed the hospital's financial difficulties on the hospital insurance service and neighboring West Vancouver.

"Twenty-three per cent of the patients treated in the North Vancouver General Hospital are from West Vancouver. If we didn't have West Van people in our hospital we wouldn't be overcrowded and we probably would have no deficit."

SPAIN'S JULIO BECOMES JULIA

Suspect Children Cemetery Vandals

Mrs. May M. Struckman, visitor from Portland, Ore., told police Thursday she believed children she had seen playing in Rosa Bay Cemetery were responsible for the damage to lettering on the headstone of her father's grave.

On visiting the grave during last week-end, Mrs. Struckman noticed that some of the lettering had been chipped off. Police will keep a closer watch on the cemetery.

Totem Emblem To Get Around

Something new has been added to B.C. automobile license plates. The 1952 plates, which will show black numbers on a silver background, will have in addition a totem pole figure framed in the outline of a maple leaf on the right hand side. The picture is to make the plates more distinctive.

Idea for having the ornament was advanced some time ago by B.C. tourist boosters who contend that the typically Canadian motif will serve as a good advertising media when B.C. cars travel in the United States.

Rev. R. J. Love, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of B.C., will officially visit Victoria Lodge No. 1 on Monday evening, Sept. 10. Members are urged to attend.

PROTEST BURNS HOT ON PHONE RATE BID

Reaction To Company's Application: 'Is There No End To It?—Fight It!'

A second application since May for increase in Victoria telephone rates has acted like oil on the building fire of protest here, according to Acting-Mayor Frank Mulliner.

While the city is still preparing its brief of protest against an application for an interim rate increase, the Telephone Company asked for a further rate jump.

The company said it wants 5 cents a month more on residential telephones and 15 cents a month more on business phones than it asked for in its May application to the Board of Transport Commissioners.

"Is there no end to it?" queried Ald. Percy Scurren, when he learned of the request. "The city should definitely fight it. This is a little bit too thick."

TWO BEEFS, ONE BRIEF

Said Acting-Mayor Mulliner: "We will likely protest the whole thing and consider the two matters in the main brief."

If the proposed amendment is granted, the rate for a two-party residential phone would be $3.90 a month. The company asked $3.85 originally and the board authorized $3.75 in its July interim order.

Proposed business rate is $8.40. The company had asked $8.25 and was granted $8.10.

Control No Cure For High Prices

NANAIMO—Price controls are only a "hold-back" and not a solution to the basic problems of inflation, Prof. R. M. Clark, assistant professor of economics at U.B.C., said here at the Association of B.C. Assessors convention.

Ald. Charles Wharton welcomed the 70 delegates to the convention, which continued today with election of officers.

TWO INJURED IN CRASH OF SEARCH PLANE

Craft Leading Hunt For Hockey Player

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (CP)—The crash of an R.C.A.F. Dakota, injuring the pilot and navigator, marred the take-off this morning of 17 planes continuing the search for missing hockey player Bill Barilko and Timmins dentist Dr. Henry Hudson.

The pilot, FO. Don Lewis of Trenton, Ont., suffered a broken ankle. The navigator, FO. Johnny Atkin, also of Trenton, suffered cut face and hands. Spotters aboard the aircraft were shaken up.

The plane, leading search aircraft into the air, was barely six feet off the ground when it flew into the earth about 100 feet off the end of the concrete runway. The port engine was shattered, the right wing was pierced by a small tree and the nose and landing gear were damaged.

BROTHER MISSED FLIGHT

Alex Barilko, brother of the missing hockey player, aiding the search as a spotter, was scheduled to take off earlier than usual this morning but arrived at the airport late. It is thought that by doing so, he missed being aboard the crashed plane.

The planes, still seeking a clue to the disappearance Aug. 26 of the two sportsmen while returning from a fishing trip to James Bay, were to investigate a mystery teepee near a canoe and a gasoline cache on a lonely northern Ontario lake.

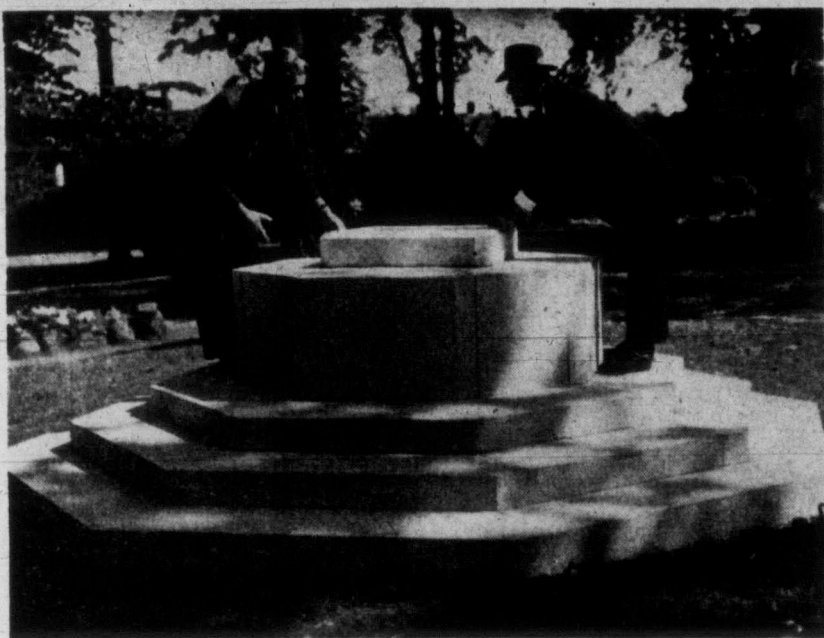

With skies clear today after foul weather Thursday grounded searchers based at this outpost 80 miles northwest of Timmins, a float-equipped Norseman plane was slated to land on Little Onnaka Lake, near the James Bay mission of Rupert House, for a look at the teepee.

Rangers Offer Rare Baroains In Sport Kits

There will be another big "bar gain day" for persons seeking to add to their fishing, hunting and other sporting kits Saturday afternoon at the Rangers' property at Luxton.

Opening day of the unique "sportsmen's rummage sale" saw scores of persons attend to choose from a wide variety of bargains. "We've lots of equipment to fit almost every type of sport. It's good stuff and going for a song," said head Ranger Gordon Sward. "All we need to make the thing a big success is a large buying crowd Saturday."

The Rangers, who offer the public a free emergency search service in cases of lost persons in the hinterland, get a small share of the asked price of goods by the owners. Mr. Sward said an auction sale Saturday night would conclude the sale. On the block will be such things as a sailboat and rubber floats. Rangers' share of the money will go toward making improvements to their 24-acre property now equipped with a $12,000 clubhouse built by the members themselves.

New Scottish Memorial Rises

Fred Cox, right, and A. J. Heard of the Stewart Monumental Works here take measurements to complete $7,000 memorial that is replacing old Vimy Ridge Cross at Pioneer Square in honor of the fighting men of the Canadian Scottish Regiment of two world wars who died on the battlefields. The 13-ton memorial will be completed this month in time for the big reunion banquet at the Armories for Scottish veterans on the night of Sept. 29 and the unveiling ceremony at 3 p.m. next day at the square. Scottish veterans will converge here from as far east as Toronto.

Buttle Dam Plan Branded By Norris Dream Of 'Unrelenting Bureaucracy'

The B.C. Power Commission was referred to by T. G. Norris, K.C., Thursday as "an unrelenting bureaucracy with, in many respects, more power than the government itself."

In his final summing up of conservationist arguments against the damming of Buttle Lake, Norris asserted that granting of the water license would be "an outright surrender of human values to the forces of materialism."

Appearing at the continued hearings before water controller E. H. Tredcroft in the Legislative Buildings, Norris blasted the power commission from many angles.

Some people may say that the assumption of authority by the commission is "in accord with the spirit of the age, but that does not make it right," he said.

The issue, he claimed, is whether "a few engineers in a hurry" are to be permitted to destroy the heritage of the people in the beautiful Strathcona Park set aside nearly half a century ago by far-sighted men.

SUGGESTS COSTS PADDED

Norris charged that the power commission had "padded by practically $1,000,000" the cost of developing power at an alternative site.

In determining the cost of the alternative Upper Campbell scheme, it had used the values set upon lands to be "expropriated" which had been asked by the owners of the land themselves—thus preventing any future negotiation on the expropriation costs.

He alleged the power commission adopted the Buttle Lake policy without any real investigation of the costs of the alternative.

Police May Pound Any Western Beat

VANCOUVER (CP)—A plan formulated in the final annual convention meeting of the Western Canada Police Association here Thursday may have police constables pounding any beat from here to Winnipeg.

Police commissioners in western provinces and the Chief Constables Association will be asked to endorse the transfer of constables from one city to another for training or on compassionate grounds where family illness forces a family to move to another city.

The association hopes a central training school, similar to that of the R.C.M.P. in Regina, will be set up to provide a broad basic training in law interpretation, first aid, driving and techniques of handling cases.

In addition it had failed to take into account the loss through destruction of Strathcona Park's beauty when calculating the cost of the Buttle scheme.

He personally flayed the individual members of the commission for failure to appear before the hearing.

"It is nothing short of amazing that no one responsible for the policy of the commission has seen fit to come before you to support the policy," he declared. "Not one of the three members of the commission—the only persons responsible for policy—all of whom at various times and in varying degrees have supported the construction of the Buttle dam and treated it as a matter which has been settled—has come here when the opportunity was given to support that policy."

NO WORD FROM WESTON

"Mr. Weston (the commission chairman) has spoken on Buttle Lake at points as far afield as Williams Lake and Kelowna, but not at this hearing, where the matter is of the greatest importance."

"Mr. Weston's prediction of the inevitability of the damming of Buttle Lake, made months ago, is indicative of his attitude of bureaucratic infallibility."

The hearing is scheduled to close today with summation by H. W. Davey, K.C., power commission counsel.

Takes Reprisal Action Against Reds' Road Tax

BERLIN, (AP)—The mayor of a West Berlin borough today began a reprisal against the Communist road tax by seizing vehicles coming from Soviet East Berlin. He had them searched and slapped a toll on them.

Within two hours, 200 East Berlin vehicles had been stopped and impounded by Willi Kressman, mayor of the American-sector borough of Kreuzberg.

Kressman said he assessed eastern drivers the same tax the Communists are exacting from West Berlin and West German drivers on Russian-zone roads. He said he was also conducting a campaign against illegal east-west trade. All cars and trucks impounded were to be searched and their drivers questioned to determine if they are engaged in unauthorized commerce.

Kressman undertook his reprisal campaign as the Allied high commission met for the second day to decide on counter-measures against the Communist levy which has curtailed Berlin's highway traffic with the west.

Humanity Rejects Communist Belief

Every man in the world possesses the qualities that will prevent the spread of Communism, Rev. John F. Como, one of 11 Port Angeles Rotarians who visited the Victoria club Thursday, said at the regular Rotary luncheon in the Empress Hotel.

"They are his inherent goodness, love of family, his valuation of freedom, and the strength of religion," he said. "Any force attempting to deprive man of these qualities will lead to the most terrific struggle the world has ever known."

How To Poison The News

THE FUTILE ATTEMPT TO ENFORCE the freedom of the press by international agreement apparently will be abandoned.

For two years, under United States pressure, the United Nations have been working on a convention by which all signatory governments would promise not to interfere with the movement of information and the reporters who gather it. But when the convention was finally drafted and submitted recently to the U.N. Economic and Social Council in Geneva it turned out to be a perfect recipe for suppressing both information and reporters.

At the instance of Near Eastern, Asian and Latin governments the convention contains a clause by which any government can prosecute a publisher for printing reports "likely to injure national feelings" or "false or distorted reports which undermine friendly relations between peoples or states."

By that prescription, of course, the whole flow of international news could be poisoned. Any government could enforce complete censorship of news moving in or out simply by declaring it dangerous. If the democratic western nations had been bound by the proposed convention during the nineteen-thirties, for example, they could not have reported the rise of the Nazi tyranny in Germany for fear of hurting Hitler's feelings. They could not tell the truth today about Piron or Franco. They could hardly discuss Russia at all.

All factual news disturbs some government or people from time to time but it is the price of democracy. Once government controls the news democracy is dead.

The United States, having tried to secure an international agreement to defend the free flow of news, finds instead a proposal to legalize the present restrictions on news and to expand those restrictions into something like prohibition. The Economic and Social Council wisely has rejected the draft convention and the U.N. Assembly no doubt will do likewise in the autumn.

The trouble here, as in so many other places, is that the few democracies now existing always tend to exaggerate the democracy of the other countries which have no use for our system or any intention of following it. We cannot legislate democracy into existence by statute. We cannot enforce freedom of information by treaty among those who do not understand freedom. And we must avoid tying ourselves to any phony agreement which could infringe our own freedom.

Not By Bread Only

THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE city council is to be congratulated on its Tuesday decision to accept Miss Sara Spencer's generous offer of a home for a Civic Arts Centre. Ratification of this move by formal city council vote next Tuesday will mark a progressive step in Victoria's cultural development.

The Times is proud to be included among those who have fought for this much-needed civic asset. Opposition to the plan—some of it emanating from the very sources which should be in the vanguard of support—has, in the opinion of this newspaper, been negative, shortsighted and based on incomplete knowledge of the facts.

As the recent Massey Report makes abundantly clear, Canada has far too long been regarded as a cultural backwash. In the past decade, this country has "come of age" politically, economically and socially. The time has now come when Canada must join with older civilizations in affirming the wisdom of that Biblical decree which warns that "Man doth not live by bread only."

In accepting the beautiful and dignified Moss Street centre, the city has encouraged and inspired the hundreds of private citizens who have labored, on a purely voluntary basis, to make this dream come true. "Class A" exhibitions, from the National Gallery and other centres, will now be brought to Victorians, for the edification of young and old alike.

With the official seal on its efforts, the Arts Centre can now build for the future. It will be the duty of Centre directors to expand its membership and administer wisely. In so doing, it cannot help but enrich the life of this community.

Immigrants Now, Canadians Soon

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION FIGURES for the first half of this year make interesting reading not only because they reflect an increasing volume over 1950's dwindling flow of new settlers, but because they indicate a change in composition. Immigrants are arriving at a rate of roughly 10,000 a month. It is estimated the full year's total will range from 100,000 to 150,000, probably surpassing the 1948 postwar record of 125,414.

But whereas Canada welcomed a peak of 46,000 from the British Isles in 1948, last year less than 15,000 came to this country from that source. During the first six months of 1951, the total from Britain reached 14,000, a figure which may be doubled by the end of the year. At the same time, even 28,000 would be a relatively small fraction of the aggregate which at the end of June had reached 80,000.

Several factors have placed the British or Commonwealth citizen in a strategic position as an immigrant. He comes with a democratic background and understanding analogous to our own. That is a characteristic probably more important than the natural sense of kinship which exists between Commonwealth people on grounds of sentiment.

The influx of settlers from other countries is in no way depreciated. They are providing the manpower, and in some cases, the wealth to increase our economic strength and meet the needs of defense production. They do, however, impose upon Canadians a particular responsibility. If they come from lands in which our procedures of government and way of life are not understood, it is vital that we, of longer residence here, should exert every effort to assist them in the process of assimilation.

It is up to us to help them to understand and appreciate the ideals we cherish and which have helped Canada to reach its present stature—which have, in fact, made this the type of nation to which they wanted to come.

The publication Industrial Health, an organ of the federal Department of National Health and Welfare, recently devoted much of its space to that question. It portrayed the psychological condition of the immigrant, frequently a person from a country in which concentration camps, jails, prisons and internment camps were often used to house individuals whose chief crime lay in their opposition to totalitarian regimes. It described their preconceived idea of Canada and it mentioned the problems they faced in a country of such vast differences to those from which they came.

The article set forth the dangers of over-solicitousness for such individuals, warning against the resentment that attitude might provoke, and called for an approach of reasonable friendliness, sympathy and co-operation.

In view of the numbers of strangers now coming to us, that advice merits consideration. We want more immigrants, more people who can assist us in the development and defense jobs we have to do. They can render the finest degree of assistance only as they become conscious Canadians. We can help them to reach that state through the means suggested by Industrial Health.

Showing A Lead

STATISTICS just issued providing a comparison of new construction in British Columbia with that in the rest of Canada are impressive. They reveal that 21 per cent of such Canadian activity so far this year has taken place in this province, and in this regard Vancouver Island, and Victoria, have had a sizeable share. The British Columbia figure of $300,000,000 represents a seven-fold increase over the first seven months of 1950.

What this means in employment opportunities for the building trades is obvious. The supplying of materials, the actual construction, the catering for the workers and their families, represents economic progress of a high order. But the fact that these huge expenditures—$160 millions for Alcan, $30 millions for the Duncan Bay newsprint plant, $19 millions for the Harmac plant extension at Nanaimo, $2 millions for the local plywood plant contract—represent investment in future production rather than unproductive outlays, gives a much clearer picture of our present economic situation.

Such large purchases of materials and supplies, of course, help to add to our inflationary cycle. These great projects are competing with the smaller consumers, and the national rearmament program, for lumber, metals of all kinds, rubber, plastics, oil and other essential commodities. But once completed, many of the construction jobs will in turn produce goods in greater abundance, thus helping to offset today's higher consumer demands and balancing the economy. It is pleasant to observe that this province is well in the forefront of the year's construction activity, and that each dollar expended will add to permanent production units for our future benefit.

An Opportunity To Be Grasped

WINTER COURSES OF THE VICTORIA College Evening Division, registrations for which are now being invited, again offer local residents an interesting variety of spare-time studies. The success of these courses in previous years augurs a similar support now.

Some of the work to be covered may be applied to regular university credits. Other lectures will deal with topics of general interest whose value will be evident to a wide circle of participants. Among the latter courses is one on the functions of government in Canada. With speakers selected from the law faculty of U.B.C. and from certain departments of the provincial government, this series offers the layman a new insight into the mechanics of the operation of his Dominion, province and local community.

These are days in which the fibre of democracy is being tried. A better knowledge of how our democratic form of government works is potent ammunition against those who question the values we accept. At a moderate cost in time and money, the Evening Division provides an excellent source of self-improvement.

Truman Sets New Campaign Basis

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

From Washington. THERE seems to have been more than met the eye in President Truman's attack on Sen. McCarthy before the American Legion, which has now been followed by a similar speech by Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin before the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

In brief, the signs are accumulating that with the election coming on, the pugnacious President has decided to accept battle with the Republicans on their own chosen ground. They want to make the big issue "Communism in Government." Truman has now got angry enough to choose as his own issue "McCarthyism and what it is doing to American political standards." Another hint that this is the way things are going was Vice-President Alben W. Barkley's strong defense of Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson and sharp attack on Acheson's attackers before the Mid-West Democratic rally at French Lick.

THIS decision of the President's can mean a lot more than the mere intention to "hit back" at McCarthy, which has already been widely reported. For one thing, it can largely shape the course of the debate in the oncoming Presidential campaign. It seems odd and tragic that McCarthyism-Communism should appear to be becoming a main campaign topic, in a time when the political decisions of the American people will make the difference between the nation's destruction or survival. There are much larger subjects to talk about, if we only had larger men to talk about them. Yet in view of the progressive debasement of American political life that McCarthyism symbolizes, the President's decision is entirely understandable and decidedly admirable.

THERE is also another thing that this Presidential decision must mean, if the wisecracks interpret the somewhat mysterious White House climate correctly. Earlier in the summer, the President seemed to have been worn down by the repeated pleas of almost every other Democratic leader, and to be preparing to allow Secretary of State Acheson to lay down his office. As earlier reported in this space, the evidence then indicated that Acheson would resign at the first opportunity. After a Korean cease-fire or some other similar event that allowed him to depart in honorable circumstances.

Now, however, if the reports from the White House are correct, and the President genuinely intends to make McCarthyism a main campaign issue, the odds on Acheson's future are thereby reversed. Acheson can hardly be permitted to go if one of the great combats of the campaign is to be conducted, as it were, across his body.

IN Congress, meanwhile, the effects of this new trend of White House strategy are already clearly apparent. Some months ago, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, warned the President that he could not be re-elected with "Acheson hanging round his neck." The Senator waited to see the results of this warning, like so many others delivered by the leaders on the Hill. Since nothing has happened, he has now moved to disassociate himself from Acheson in the most marked manner, by taking what comes close to a Republican isolation stand on the crucial Foreign Aid bill.

THE unseen effects of the Secretary of State remaining in office have been perhaps even more important; for the resulting character of the relationship with Congress has levied a sort of blackmail on our policy. Hence certain crucial problems, like that of Yugoslavia, have been tackled very gingerly. And other problems, perhaps even more important, like the obvious danger of another vast economic crisis in Britain, have not been tackled at all.

IT is better not to think about the results that can be produced by this hidden blackmail and the anti-Acheson mood in Congress in the next session, which will be sitting at the time of utmost danger to the Western World. The Soviets will be strongly tempted toward new aggressions in order to get in first, before Western rearmament becomes a hard reality. We shall be blinded to external dangers by personal and domestic quarrels, and by the rising passions of the campaign. Altogether, among the terrible risks that are going to have to be run in the next 14 months, the worst is probably this risk of an American political failure which will bring the Western alliance down in ruins.

ON the other hand, the thing has probably gone on too long, and the effect of McCarthyism on American political life has now become too grave for any mere shuffling of cabinet offices to help matters, as it would have done last winter.

If the State Department will refuse to yield to the hidden blackmail, if the President will fight straight out against the debasement of American standards, the risk of failure abroad will be compensated by the hope of a cure at home. In a time of few consolations, it will be a major consolation to purge from the national blood the infection represented by the poison pen literature described recently in this space.

No Follow Through

Windsor Star SENTENCING a man to jail for six months for book-making, Magistrate Angus W. MacMillan indicated he saw no difference between this offense and bingo games or selling of lottery tickets on automobiles on the streets.

His Worship here has shown an inability to follow through. The illicit racing bet has been established by no less an authority than the Kefauver Committee as gangland's most important source of funds.

The revenue from bingos and car raffles, on the other hand, are administered for the public good or the aid of underprivileged persons, and usually by men who are donating the time given to this service.

Channel Swimming Under Difficulties

As Our Readers See It

READ AND NOTED

Some weeks ago I wrote a letter to the Victoria Times, stating the fact that donkeys were being shipped from Ireland to be killed for meat for the people in England.

My letter was read by a Mrs. G. M. Webster who was born in Wexford, Ireland, was a Vancouver Island resident for many years and now lives in Vancouver, B.C. She wrote to me, and also forwarded my press letter to Ireland. So you will see how letters to the press travel.

I wonder how many people read where "21 horses were suffocated in a box car near Kamloops, B.C., on their way to be slaughtered for meat." Imagine the sufferings of these poor horses as they died in agony without light and air of any kind.

In closing may I say we are told in the Bible not to eat anything with the cloven hoof. May I state also Ireland is exporting the older donkeys to Belgium to work in the mines. A society in Ireland is asking people not to give their old donkeys and horses away to be brutalized in this manner, but to have them shot free of charge to prevent future misery. Thank God, I say.

SAME PATTERN

I would like to say with regard to the letter headed "Patterns to Follow" that there is a prayer among the special prayers (the first one) in the Anglican Prayer Book to be used for rain. I do not know whether it was used, or if not, why not.

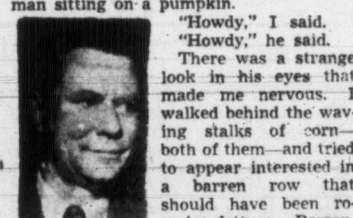

A special day for prayer sounds like the insistent cry of a child for a green apple which the mother withholds because she knows the stomach ache and possible dosing that will follow.

Why not follow the example of Jesus and leave the result in God's hands? R.

Under Our Roof

By JOHN RHODES STURDY

YESTERDAY morning I walked down to the garden to look at the havoce left by the drought, and there I saw this little man sitting on a pumpkin.

"Howdy," I said. "Howdy," he said. There was a strange look in his eyes that made me nervous. I walked behind the waving stalks of corn—both of them—and tried to appear interested in a barren row that should have been ro-maine lettuce. Personally I don't understand why the lettuce never came up through the ground—except perhaps I made a mistake and planted the seeds upside down. After all, we gardeners are not infallible.

I could feel the little man's eyes boring through the back of my head. When I turned around he was still squatting on the pumpkin. "Nice weather," he said. "Yes," I said. "Hot, though," he said.

We appeared to have exhausted that topic of conversation. I picked up a fork and made attempts at turning over the soil, but the little man, for some reason, had made me so nervous that I only succeeded in stabbing my toes.

"No use," he said. "I nursed my toes. 'Why?' I demanded.

"Clay," he said. "Can't grow anything in clay."

"Oh, is that so?" I said. "Well, let me tell you there's enough fertilizer in this soil to enrich the whole island. And what's more," I added angrily, "you're sitting on my prize pumpkin."

"Tired," he said. I was suddenly fed up with him. In the country you get to be very sociable with strangers, but this was a little too much.

"Do you want something?" I demanded.

His face suddenly came to life. He put out his tongue and licked his lips, and his eyes seemed to sparkle with anticipation.

"Yes," he said. "What?"

"A drink."

"Oh, I'm sorry," I said, suddenly feeling ashamed of myself. For the first time I realized that his lips had a parched look. The poor fellow had probably walked for miles. "The pump house is just behind that tree," I told him. "There's a water tap there and a cup."

"Nope," he said. "I'll wait."

"Okay," I said, exasperated. "Go ahead and wait. I doubt if the water will come to you."

A look of indecision came into his eyes. "You're the one, ain't you?" he asked.

"What one?"

"One I read about. In the paper. One that's expecting Hamish and that Colonel fellow."

"Yes," I said, fearfully. "I'm expecting Hamish and Col. S. Skeffington-Smits (ret.) and Anastasia Wigga-Wiggs. Don't tell me you're waiting to see them?"

"Nope," he said. "The other one."

"What other one?"

"The one that sells the stuff."

"Oh, no!" I moaned. "You're not waiting for Little Augie!"

"Yep," he said, and licked his lips. "Thirsty."

I fled back to the house and boiled the door after me. My wife ran out from the kitchen and cried: "Good heavens, what's the matter?"

I reminded her that Little Augie, the blind pig king, was threatening to come to our island along with Hamish and the others. Little Augie, who had moved west because his business had been ruined by all the cocktail bars back east.

"What about it?" my wife said.

I looked at her, trembling. "One of his customers is waiting in the garden," I said.

Tracing The Family McTree

From The Times (London)

NOW that the last echo of the skirling pipes has died away and the clansmen from Chicago and points east and west, having folded up their tartan kilts, are back in mufti, it is safe to reflect, from the sunny side of the Border, on a remarkable gathering.

No mother country, except Scotland, could thus have brought her exiled children together cheered by the belief that they knew all about their ancestors. Most men would like to be able to trace family roots deep down into the centuries but, lacking the clan clue to guide them, they get quickly lost. They order this matter better in Scotland. There, surnames are comparatively few and some 40 or 50 big clans absorb a large proportion of the Scottish names.

IDENTIFICATION

This pleasant tradition allows an individual, whose forebears emigrated generations ago and who has no knowledge of his great-grandfather, agreeably to identify himself with events in history. "He" was out in the '15 and again in the '45 and, going back farther, he can revel with a personal sense of participation in the romantic excitements of the Middle Ages. The wild beauty of Culloden Moor makes his blood tingle because his name comes into the story.

For English tourists there is no such stimulus. Even if they have served in a regiment that took part in the battle, on the winning side, their pulses remain unaroused. Regimental association, strong though it is, has not the same glamour as a clan name. Nor has a southern surname. Who called Hood fancies himself in a previous incarnation clad in Lincoln green and shooting arrows into sheriffs? What Smith claims kinship with Wayland?

HIGHEST POINTS

When southerners do take a hand in this game they play it oddly. Highest points go to anyone who came over with the Conqueror, so that his expeditionary force must have been the largest to land on either side of the Channel before D-Day. Hardly anyone seems to have had an ancestor who fought for Harold, although the English preference for lost causes is notorious. A further oddity to be noted by anthropologists studying the island way of life is that the Welsh and Irish, for all their pride of nationalism, have allowed themselves hopelessly to be beaten by the Scots in this contest.

The Kings of Munster and so forth have, nowadays, fewer confident descendants, even on St. Patrick's Day, than they had in the recent past. Welsh pedigrees are lengthy and involved, but they lack the free and easy universality of the Scottish clan connections.

SATISFIES IMPULSE

Scotland may not have reached the perfect solution, but she does satisfy, or at least lull, a generally felt impulse of human curiosity. How fascinating it would be to possess a genuine family tree that went back for hundreds of years. The speed at which the record fades is lamentable. Even the memory of those indispensable old ladies who are the verbal historians of many families gives out as a rule by the eighteenth century—if not before.

Most people know about their grandfathers; only a lucky few can trace those grandfathers' grandfathers. It is no consolation to learn from relentless judges of evidence like Round that legend descends quickly on the most exalted genealogies. To be introduced to an ancestor who was contemporary with Queen Anne would be delightful. If only the Browns and Robinsons were divided into clans the trick could be done. As things are, the ancestor is, alas, more dead than the Queen.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"I SEE," said the Elevator Man, "where they're urging a successful peace treaty meeting in the opera house at San Francisco because that's the spot where the United Nations was born. At the same time, they're suggesting that the Korea peace talks be moved away from Kaesong because that place is contaminated with the failure of the conferences held so far. Actually, I don't see why the place where things are done should matter so much when it's what happens that counts.

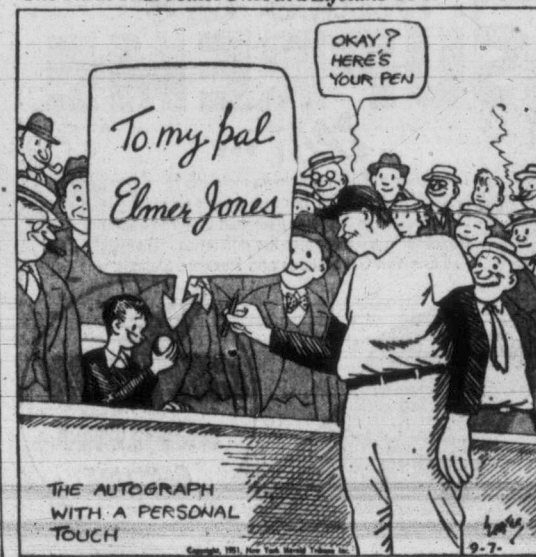

But I guess it's natural enough that we should put so much importance on it. All our lives we give significance to particular spots on the earth's surface. Our own birthplace is something we never forget. It's special for us. We figure we've made the place more important by being there. And sometimes it's the other way round, like when you might hear a fella boast, 'Yes, sir. Born right in the same village as St. Laurent.' Going up!

"But," said the Elevator Man, "what-ever the place we came from, it seems to me we have a responsibility to the places we go to, too. Even though nobody but our conscience remembers it, we shouldn't leave invisible plaques here and there saying, 'On this historic spot on such-and-such a date so-and-so, while nobody was looking, pulled a fast one on an unsuspecting neighbor, or 'This tablet commemorates the site of a small bit of chicanery perpetrated by so-and-so in cheating an acquaintance, not of a serious nature but not good either.' We don't want our milestones to become millstones.

Going down!

"Often," said the Elevator Man, "our location uplifts us and helps us to be good. You can get pretty lofty thoughts in a cathedral or at a national shrine or a war monument. And sometimes the influence is very direct, like it was on that fella who appeared in court one day. 'How many times have you been here before?' asked the judge. 'Only once, your honor,' the prisoner replied. 'And when was that?' continues the magistrate. 'About 20 years ago.' 'Not a bad record,' says the man on the bench. 'Where have you been in the meantime?' And the answer was, 'In the penitentiary.'"

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime BY H. T. WEBSTER

Too Much

Seattle Times

President Truman is quite right in his plea before the American Legion for fair play for persons, in and out of the government, who may be falsely accused of disloyalty or Communist sympathies. There has been altogether too much loose flinging of charges.

There is another side to the picture, however. Granting that some, and perhaps most of the allegations are ill-founded, some have stuck. It is also true that a pre-judgment of innocence is a unjustified while a trial or investigation is proceeding under normal rules.

Trade Group Urges Rail Link North

PRINCE RUPERT—Extension of rail service from Prince George to Alaska Thursday was urged in a Prince George Board of Trade resolution at the annual convention of Central B.C. Associated Boards of Trade here.

Of the first seven resolutions adopted by the convention, the mooted rail extension was the most thoroughly discussed.

Main reasons for the resolution were given as an important step in defense of the Pacific Coast and opening of a vast territory of northern British Columbia for industrial and agricultural development.

H. G. Perry, chairman of the resolutions committee, explained that already two resolutions calling for such a rail extension had been passed by the U.S. Congress.

The Prince George resolution urges the provincial government to work out a policy with the U.S. government and U.S. private interests on the rail extension.

George Murray, M.P. for Cariboo, suggested that the resolution could very well leave out reference to Alaska.

"We are interested first in Canada and in this part of Canada," he said. Extension of a railway north of the Northern Canadian National Railways line should first connect with the Peace River district "where 30,000,000 bushels of grain this year will be shipped east."

GREYHOUND

HOME GARDEN

by Hilda Beasall

Regardless of the continued dry weather there is much planting and transplanting to be done. By keeping the roots covered to prevent the drying action of sun and wind, these operations may be carried out successfully.

The spring and early summer flowering herbaceous perennials may be lifted, divided and replanted. Mix a little bonemeal in each plant hole so that food will be available when growth starts next spring.

The young biennial plants from seed sown during summer must be set out in flowering positions at once in order to develop a good root system before heavy rains and frosts. Included in this group are wallflowers, Canterbury bells, sweet william and forget-me-nots. Keep the plants well watered until the rains come.

New plants of perennials being raised from seed should also be planted now. If set in permanent positions be sure to allow enough room for later development. Delphinium, lupin and aquilegia need from two-and-one-half to three feet between plants to permit a free circulation of air through the foliage, otherwise mildew will be troublesome.

Give dahlias a plentiful supply of moisture and conserve it by applying a mulch of good compost which, incidentally, helps to keep the feeding roots cooler.

Feed chrysanthemums with liquid manure or soot water once a week, but cease when the buds show color.

New lawns should be seeded immediately while the soil is still warm enough for quick germination. Be sure to obtain the correct seed mixture for the position in which the lawn is situated. Shade-loving grasses will not stand full sunlight, nor will sun lovers thrive in damp shady spots. When the ground is dry it is better to soak it a few days prior to sowing than to disturb the seeds with frequent sprinkling.

Poor flowering of stored begonia tubers can usually be traced to early fall digging. The tubers must mature in the soil and it is safe to leave them until the first light frost cuts down the foliage.

India Mediator Refuses To Acknowledge Failure

NEW DELHI (AP)—Dr. Frank P. Graham, United Nations mediator in the Kashmir dispute, will leave the Indian sub-continent on Sept. 12 for Geneva where he will write his findings for the Security Council.

Graham refused to say at a press conference today that his mission was a failure. He still believes the Indian-Pakistan rift over possession of Kashmir can be settled.

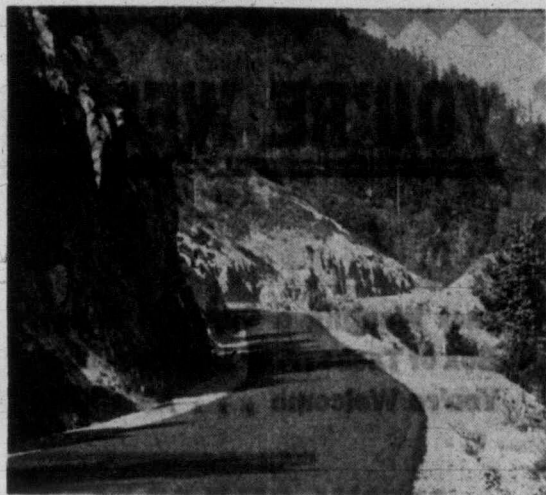

The former United States Senator presented a formal proposal for settlement to Prime Minister Nehru today, reliable sources said. Up until now all his approaches to both Indian and Pakistan leaders have been on an informal plane. The formal proposal was not accepted by Nehru.

Sources close to the mediator said he was severely shaken by his failure to move Nehru from the position the Indian leader has taken on the Kashmir issue. It is believed Graham will now present the same formal proposal to Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan in Karachi. The mediation team will begin final conferences with Liaquat tomorrow.

MUST COMPROMISE
A spokesman said Graham himself feels the issue can be solved if only both factions will "compromise a little bit."

Graham's departure finds tension between India and Pakistan—which was boiling towards war fever a month ago—somewhat eased. Although troops of both nations are massed along the frontiers, the fear that open war might erupt is greatly reduced—at least it is in New Delhi.

Pakistan, a Moslem state, claims Kashmir because the northern state's population is mostly Moslem. India's claim is by virtue of the accession to New Delhi by the Hindu Kashmiri Kaharajah just after Britain pulled out of the sub-continent.

Island Highway Traffic Slackens

The biggest tourist season on record is nearing an end as evidenced in this picture of the new Niagara Canyon section of the scenic Malahat Drive. Travel on the main artery dropped off noticeably immediately after the Labor Day week-end. When figures are compiled, it is expected tourist traffic on Vancouver Island this year will have shattered by a wide margin all previous records. (Times photo.)

RUSSIAN AGENTS BLAMED

Brother Insists Adamic Death Was Murder Plot

LONDON (AP)—The brother of author Louis Adamic charged today the writer was murdered by Russian agents and his house set afire to destroy his private documents.

The Yugoslav-born author was found dead of a gunshot wound in the head Tuesday in his burning farmhouse near Flemington, N.J. Local authorities recorded the death as suicide. However, they invited United States authorities to investigate the possibility that he might have been slain because of his anti-Communist writings.

Belgrade radio said today Adamic's brother, Franc, an engineering professor at Ljubljana University, is convinced the author was murdered. He said his brother narrowly escaped an apparent assassination plot a year ago.

Franc visited Louis in 1950, he said, and "Louis spoke to me then about difficulties he was having in connection with his forthcoming book."

"Yugoslav Fascist elements and agents of the Cominform all feared publication of the book and wished to prevent its appearance," the professor added. "He often used to receive threatening letters."

Unequal Rates Pain Nanaimo

NANAIMO — Suggestion that Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce work with the city council finance committee to secure parity freight rates with Vancouver has been advanced by R. W. Mawhinney, Nanaimo bank manager, who claims that without parity Nanaimo will be "isolated."

"Nanaimo and its people should not be at a disadvantage with Vancouver," Mr. Mawhinney said at the regular meeting of the chamber.

Flee Formosa Firing Squad For U.S.

By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON (AP)—A story of intrigue involving millions of dollars unfolded today around two Chinese Nationalist air force officers who may seek asylum in the United States to escape a possible firing squad on Formosa.

The two officers are Lt. Gen. P. T. Mow, deputy commander of the Chinese Air Force and his executive officer, Col. Hsiang Wei-hsian. They have been accused by their government of failing to account for $19,440,000 in government funds.

Friends of the two men say the charges are absurd and grew out of Mow's determination to block grafting in Chinese air force purchases made in the U.S.

They say Mow and Hsiang will account for all the money at the proper time.

The Nationalist Government headed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has ordered Hsiang home but he has refused. The status of Mow is not clear—but he, too, is fighting recall.

The story was broken Thursday by the New York Times and was confined to friends and associates of the two officers.

Friends say the two airmen will ask for political refuge in the U.S. if any move is made to send them back to Formosa.

The U.S. has no extradition treaty with the Chinese Nationalist Government. But officials say this government could deport the two.

RHEUMATIC PAIN Can Be Costly!

"This winter I had to quit work because of rheumatic pain," writes Mr. T. Gluckstein, Wilno, Ont. "I became fearful of being laid up as on a previous occasion with rheumatic pain. My pain became increasingly severe and spread from hip to ankle. Out of bed, the leg felt cold as though in cold water, so I stayed in bed. A friend persuaded me to take T-R-C's and I'm glad I did. In a short while I was relieved of my pain and was soon on the job again."

Don't suffer from Rheumatic or Arthritic pain. Take Templeton's T-R-C's—Canada's LARGEST-SELLING proprietary medicine to bring quick relief from such pain. Only 65c. $1.35 at druggists. T-448

Art Lovers Enthusiastic Over New Home

First Meeting Well Attended

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON
 Word that the new Arts Centre which will soon be available through the city's acceptance of the Spencer home sparked an overflow attendance at the re-opening of the temporary gallery on Broughton Street, Thursday night.

During the informal part of the evening the gallery was alive with enthusiastic comment and praise for the action which it is expected will vitalize all aspects of art in Greater Victoria.

An exhibition of water colors by local artist Muriel Barnes drew much favorable comment.

Mrs. Barnes showed a variety of subjects. Landscapes predominated but there are also some floral subjects, still life, abstracts and one interesting portrait.

The work has great strength, including here and there toward harshness. But there is a warm and pleasing color sense, simplicity in representation and freedom of execution.

The special speaker for the occasion was Jan Zach, Czechoslovakian painter-sculptor, who will make his home in Victoria for the next six months.

Mrs. Zach read her husband's brief paper on the culture of Brazil, tracing its history from the early stimulus of the Jesuit order down to the present day.

Mr. and Mrs. Zach were introduced and thanked by the president, Mrs. A. S. Wyllie.

JUST 'AD LIBBING' AROUND

'Der Bingle' Lured Here By Fish

By DAVE STOCK

The man whose voice is said to be the most famous in the world bounced into Victoria Thursday afternoon and after lunch at the Empress Hotel, a few holes of golf at the Oak Bay links, headed for Campbell River for some fishing.

The gay lad with the plaid sport shirt, light Panama hat and bright yellow scarf was none other than Bing Crosby.

Hungry on arrival, he insisted on having lunch before talking to newsmen. After being fed, however, he proved a jolly and willing subject.

He answered all questions directly and threw in a lot of wisecracks as he went along.

He explained he came to Vancouver Island solely to play golf and do some fishing.

LEAD ME TO 'EM

"Talked to Phil Harris on the phone the other day," he confided. "Phil told me he caught some good ones, so I told them to lead me to 'em."

The famous crooner said he had no idea how long he might stay.

"We're just sort of ad libbing around," he explained. "Don't know how long we'll be. Haven't got to be back home, though, till the middle of the month."

Bing is accompanied on his trip

by his friend and script writer, Bill Morrow.

"Bill's my gillie," Bing declared. "You know what a gillie is? He's the guy who cleans the tackle and rows the boat."

The pair motored up to Seattle and took the C.P.R. boat from there across to the island. Bing claims he drove all the way.

"Do you think I'd trust my life with that guy driving?" Bing chided his friend.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor.

Like a picture postcard, everything was just a little bit brighter, natter and prettier than life itself in the Cougars' front office Wednesday as general manager Fred Hutchinson proclaimed from the pulpit that Roger Leger—pride of arena way—was packing his kit and heading west.

Even the reproduction was clear as it showed the "kid line" in the background with the border decorated by Jack McIntyre, Joe Evans, Joe Lepine, Eddie Dorohoy, Joe Medynski—champions all.

Although the colors were probably intensified by the light which shone full on Leger, nevertheless a blurred image could be seen in that portion of the photograph set aside for the profile of Jerry Conlour.

Jerry, the agile little French-speaking compatriot of the coach, had missed the sitting because of a slight error in judgment while running the bases in a professional baseball game in eastern Canada. He had misjudged either direction or velocity and now was making picture postcards of his own in a Montreal hospital while eager young medics sought to mend a broken tibia in one of his puck-stopping legs.

But even without Conlour and his paper dolls, the Cougars were taking shape with Leger in the print. The camera now had a subject to which it could do justice.

There was a time though when the lens was out of focus. That was when Leger went into hiding and refused to pick up a mere $1,000 bonus which was waiting for him in Montreal the moment he decided to pose for the photographers.

Roger had set a higher price on his profile than had been anticipated and it wasn't until the old maestro of the shutter—Lester Patrick—squinted a pucker-eye at last year's Friday night idol that the pose was satisfactory. The camera clicked and Roger got a handsome bonus for a few seconds work. The word was "substantial" but the gloss will be worth it if the sheen doesn't wear off by spring, 1952.

The Little Corporal Will Be Missed

But as for Conlour. That poses an unexpected problem. And one that will not be taken lightly. "The Little Corporal" was quite the shucks as a goalie last year if memory serves us in its usual capacity. He came to the Cougars when Hec Highton was having more "off" nights than his contract called for, and stayed around to set a couple of league marks for future guardians of the payoff citadel to shoot at.

However, the aura in the Cougars' eyes had hardly spread its brilliance across the town when a heavy smog rolled across the Straits of Georgia from Vancouver where the Intercity Lacrosse League Commission was meeting. And the ebony cloud that came with it eclipsed what had been viewed through the range-finder only a few hours previously.

Wally Henderson, an import, who out of the generosity of his fighting heart and the unadulterated desire to play for a Mann Cup winner, had approached the Shamrocks, now had been ruled ineligible to compete in the league final.

The staggering blow caught Irish officials unawares. They weren't even invited to that meeting to tell what had gone before, nor were they present to defend the moral obligations the commissioners had placed upon their own shoulders by previously granting Henderson permission to play.

Wally Gains Fame Overnight

Vancouver Combines, who, like the Shamrocks, envision further prestige, flicked the switch that doused Henderson's lustre, and even though they couldn't see fit to use Henderson themselves—in fact, nobody on the mainland wanted him—decided that the Shamrocks shouldn't have him either. That is, until last night.

Of course there is a clause in the constitution that prohibits poaching, but the clause is worded in such a way that, according to Shamrock officials, they are operating under a license approved by the league. If the league sees fit to revoke that license again, and it may be perfectly within its right to do so, then there is nothing more the Shamrocks can do, but pay the penalty for a misplaced trust.

The fact still remains, however, that the commission acted without wisdom or justice in upholding the protest without granting a hearing to the party charged with the crime. That had to come in an appeal, which hearing was heard last night and is more than interesting in its result.

It Isn't Cricket, But It Worked

Shamrock officials went to Vancouver prepared to present an ultimatum. That ultimatum was: "Henderson plays or there will be no game in Victoria Saturday night."

Apparently the commission recognized the threat for what it was worth (who wouldn't with a sellout assured) and "persuaded" Combines to withdraw the protest. There was no hint of the commission supporting the Shamrocks' claim to Henderson's eligibility, however, which still leaves the issue as much in the air as it ever was, if Combines care to protest again, which is highly unlikely.

Graciously or otherwise the Combines agreed to the request, but there was a veiled and obviously sarcastic tone to the reply: "We will allow Henderson to play in the finals because in doing so a better playoff series will be the result."

The lip-reading stops and the real action begins Saturday night at 8.30.

Mawhinney Rated Threat For U.S. Amateur Title

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Canada's best amateur golfer meets America's Walker Cup team today in a strictly informal "for fun only" match that could be the forerunner of a new international competition.

Right now about the only thing the match can do will be to sharpen the drives and putts of the linksmen for the opening of the 51st amateur championship of the United States Golf Association Monday.

The Canadian-U.S. match will be played on the same trap-laden Saucon Valley Country Club course as the U.S.G.A. meet.

Each side will be represented by nine players. The U.S. team

WORLD SERIES AVAILABLE TO 85,000,000

NEW YORK (UP)—The World Series will be televised from coast to coast for the first time in history.

Completion of arrangements for the telecast, made possible by the opening of the new trans-continental cable and micro-wave stations, was announced today by Joseph H. McConnell, president of the NBC television network.

The NBC network will carry the series into areas with a total of 85,000,000 population.

In addition, Mutual Broadcasting System announced that the 545 radio stations of its network will carry a radio broadcast of the series for the 12th straight year.

Ritchey Takes W.I.L. Bat Title

TACOMA (AP)—John Ritchey, Vancouver catcher, has captured the Western International League batting champion with a .346 average, four points ahead of his nearest rival, and Spokane's Jim Holder, who finished with an 11.2 won-lost record, wears the pitching crown, it was disclosed in final unofficial averages released today from the office of President Robert B. Abel, Thursday.

Chasing Ritchey down to the wire was a teammate, outfielder Dick Sinovic, who finished at .342. Holder's closest competition came from Pete Hernandez of Vancouver, who emerged with a 17.4 record, and in third place at 27.7 was Vancouver's Bob Snyder, who won three times in the last five days to set a new league record for total triumphs. All are right-handers.

The league strikeout king is Tom Breisinger, Wenatchee southpaw, who whiffed 209, while the 176 walks issued by John Marshall, Victoria-Spokane right-hander, was another high for the circuit.

Will Hafez of Wenatchee won the home-run championship, with 24, far ahead of the runner-up, Tri-City's Buddy Peterson, with 13.

Sinovic wound up with the runs-batted-in total with a total of 113, one more than Spokane's Jim Wert.

WENATCHEE (AP)—Manager Rupert (Tommy) Thompson and three of his ball players asked for and drew their releases from the Western International League Thursday.

The Chiefs' front office said Thompson, who piloted the club to fourth place finishes in both 1950 and 1951, got his release by "mutual agreement."

Outfielder Will Hafez, infielder-catcher Lyle Lake and right-handed pitcher Walt Raymond also asked for and were granted their walking papers, Hafez led the W.I.L. in home runs this season with 24.

SECRET DRILLS, TOO

Turpin Will Be Ready

By HUGH FULLERTON

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)—If there's any truth in the popular rumor that Randy Turpin has been sneaking in secret workouts on his "off" days, he should be the best-prepared boxer who ever fought for the middleweight title.

Randy denies the yarn but some folks who have found it hard to penetrate the protective barrier Turpin's managers set up on his rest days figure he must be getting in a few licks. Maybe that's because some of his public workouts for his Sept. 12 New York date with Sugar Ray Robinson have looked more like playful sparring sessions.

After that, he says, "I'll just spar around a little with the boys to stay loosened up."

Turpin and his board of strategy also insist they haven't a plan for fighting Robinson. He's just training for another fight, in spite of the awesome reputation Sugar Ray carried before Randy jarred it loose in July in London.

Turpin does things that look as if they'd get him into trouble. Such as backing into the ropes and then lashing out with a right-hand lead when a cautious boxer would be covering up.

But Jackie Keough, who fought Turpin in England, and who is sparring with him here, exclaims: "He didn't seem to do too well when I had him backing up—but he just hit me once and I couldn't move my legs. Randy really can punch."

YANKS, BOSOX HIT

Weather Teams Up With Tribe

The weatherman appears to have ranged himself alongside the front-running Cleveland Indians in their three-team fight for the American League pennant.

Rain, washing out yesterday's doubleheader between New York and Boston, forced rescheduling of the Yankee-Red Sox games for the final vital days of the flag race and placed a heavy burden on New York and Boston.

Scheduled games between the Dodgers and Phillies, Giants and Braves, and Senators and Athletics also were rained out. The Indians and St. Louis Browns had an off day.

The Yankee-Red Sox games had to be fitted into the schedule as parts of doubleheaders Sept. 28 and Sept. 29. The season ends with a single game Sept. 30. No other dates were available.

This means the Yankees and Red Sox will clash five times in the last three days. Meantime, the tribe figures to have a breather.

Whereas Boston must cram 11 games into the final 10 days, and New York nine, Cleveland plays only six.

The scheduling of those doubleheaders so late in the season may force an unprecedented post-season playoff of rained-out games.

Under a new rule, adopted by the majors last winter, two days are set aside after the regular season to play off postponed games that have a direct bearing on the pennant race.

Should rain prevent any of the games over the final week-end, they will be played Oct. 1 or Oct. 2.

The washout left the teams as they were. Cleveland holds a one-game advantage over the Yankees and lead Boston by four lengths.

In the only games played yesterday St. Louis Cardinals trounced Chicago-Cubs 10-2. Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Cincinnati 7-4 and Chicago White Sox humbled St. Louis Browns 9-4.

GIRODAYS LOSE SERIES OPENER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Making the most of the breaks, Winnipeg Northerns last night defeated Vancouver Girodays 2-1 in the opening game of the Western Canada senior men's softball final before 2,018 fans.

Second game of the best-of-five series will be played here tonight with an afternoon doubleheader scheduled for Saturday.

United Shows In Preview Here Saturday

Victoria soccer fans will get a chance to see the 1951-52 edition of Victoria United in action tomorrow when the club meets its farm team, Victoria City, in an exhibition game at Beacon Hill at 2.30.

The Victoria City club, which is composed of members of last year's junior Veterans of France squad, will hold joint workouts with United from now on. Both clubs will be coached by Wallace Milligan, and City will be managed by Bob Bell, a former United player.

Bill McCallister, 1949-50 United goalie, and Lorne Ettinger, goalie for Collingwood in the Vancouver and District Football League last year, will battle with Joe Travis for the net-minding job with the intercity club.

Eight other players with last year's club are trying out for positions this year. They are Milligan, John Pickburn, Bobby Allen, Cedric Robb, Don McGee, Stan Bob and Ab Travis.

SEEKING BERTHS

Also trying for team berths are Bill Hope, centre half for Victoria West last year; former Oak Bay players Frank Grealey and Gordie Hobson; John Spencer, former half back from Scotland, and Reg Rowell, an English half back.

Any players who fail to make United will then play for the Victoria City squad and may be called up at any time. Both clubs will hold practices at Athletic Park on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7.

Jimmy Spencer, playing manager of North Shore, has signed five of last season's squad and has strings on six other players.

He still has a problem at centre half and centre forward. Alex Reid and Fred Whitaker, who filled the posts last year, have failed to sign.

Spencer states that he is interested in Gordon Nordby, who played with Renfrew Argyle last year, and Jim Foster, formerly with U.B.C. Both are centre halves.

OLD FAVORITES

Holdovers signed by St. Andrew's are Jack Jones, Buster Cairns, Nick Glover, Bobby Newbold, Wes Henderson, George Steele, Don Matheson and Walter Novak.

Jack Spry and Bob Hunter are reported switching to New Westminster Royals. Bill Poppowich is returning to Varsity, and Art Hughes is trying to get on with the Firefighters. Paul Fabias is a doubtful starter.

CARR TO ROYALS

Ivan Carr, Vancouver City star last year, has been signed by New Westminster Royals. Others already signed are: Gogle Stewart, Les Hibbert, Doug Ion, BBill Johnson, Bob Findler, Jack Steele and Tony Vanderheide.

Royals will not be using Jack Whent, as he has returned to Luton Town in the English League.

Back Down When Rocks Threaten To Quit Loop

Possible withdrawal of the Victoria Shamrocks from the Intercity Lacrosse League finals was averted last night when Vancouver Combines, who will meet the Rocks in the opening game of the best-of-seven series here Saturday night, withdrew their protest over the eligibility of Wally Henderson of the Irish.

Shamrocks, who were not represented at the commission meeting at which Henderson was ruled ineligible, were prepared to present an ultimatum to the commission when appealing the decision last night.

The ultimatum was in effect that if Henderson did not play, neither would the Shamrocks. However, it wasn't necessary.

Meanwhile, the Shamrocks' Sideliner Club, meeting in Victoria, threatened to boycott future intercity league action in Victoria if the ruling was not rescinded.

Shamrock delegates Ralph Baker and coach Arnie Ferguson pointed out that Henderson was not a transferee and had approached the Victoria team of his own free will as a free agent.

At that time permission to sign Henderson was granted by the commission as Whitey Severson, the club's leading scorer, had been lost to the club for the remainder of the season when he suffered a broken leg.

AGREEMENT CITED

The protest was based on an agreement between Intercity League clubs that Island teams use only Island players and mainland clubs players residing on the mainland.

Combines withdrew their protest when it was pointed out that if Henderson was not allowed to compete, the Shamrocks would suffer a severe player shortage, partially occasioned by Severson's loss. With Henderson in the line-up the Shamrocks will strip 14 players, the league maximum, for tomorrow night's game.

COLEY HALL ANNOUNCES 'NEW DEAL' FOR CANUCKS

Although there was no news from the Cougar encampment, Coley Hall kept hockey in the limelight today by announcing that he had mailed contracts to only six of last season's Vancouver Canucks.

Returning players are Larry Reardon, Vic Lovendahl, Willie Schmidt, Bill Shill, Eric Unger and Bobby Ballance.

Newcomers invited to attend the Canuck training camp at Nanaimo are Ernie Rucks and Angelo Defelice, members of Nanaimo Clippers last year; Gary Gordon and Douglas McMurphy from Springfield of the American Hockey League; goalie Jack McGill, Gus Schwartz, Val de Lory and Joseph Levandoski from St. Paul.

WHO'S GOT BALLANCE?

Murray Patrick, Tacoma coach, insists that he traded Howe to Hall for Bob Ballance, but Hall states that Rowe came to the Canucks on loan from the New York Rangers, but also states that he is willing to deal Ballance or Schmidt with Patrick at any time.

Views Of Sport

By RED SMITH

NEW YORK—The heavyweight champion of the world is a man named Arnold Cream, better known as the demon announcer Harry Belafonte, used to say—Joe Walcott. He is an elderly, balding, paunchy guy with an undistinguished past and a large household of kids, and he is either an American hero in the finest Horatio Alger tradition or a faintly comic figure, depending on how you view him.

No matter how you view him, though, he is undeniably the heavyweight champion of the world. If you are in the fight business, that is as far as you can go. It is the best. It must be pretty good for Jersey Joe, at his age, because there was a long time when it was not that at all.

"It was, as a matter of fact, like this," said Irving Rudd. Irving Rudd is a short guy with a long memory who has done a lot of things for a living. There was a time when he was press agent for a neighborhood fight club called the Rockland Palace.

"This was back in 1937 and thereabout," Irving said. "The Rockland Palace was across from the Polo Grounds. Years before, it was called the Manhattan Casino and, if I'm not mistaken, it was there Benny Leonard flattened Freddie Welsh for the lightweight championship. But anyway, I'll tell you how it was up there in my day.

The Old Rockland Palace

"In those days, Negro fighters weren't getting any the best of it. Joe Louis was just about established and Henry Armstrong was coming along but in the rank and file there were a lot of very good boys who just had to do the best they could fighting each other. The lions and the tigers had to fight among themselves in those days, they couldn't lie down with the lambs.

"The Rockland Palace was Harlem's Madison Square Garden. Where you see Toots Shor and Sherman Billingsley and Walter Winchell at the Garden fights today, you would see Duke Ellington and Cab Calloway at Rockland Palace. It was the gayest sort of fight club, everybody having a good time at $1.65 for a seat in the first row, and a bartender named Vivian out in the aisle shadow-boxing and rooting his favorite in.

"Now I'm a young guy, and I never saw Gans or Leonard or Ketchell. Of the fighters I have seen, Ray Robinson was the best. Joe Louis was Number Three, and the second best was a boy named Tiger Jack Fox. That Tiger, he was the king of Rockland Palace.

When Jersey Was Just A Joe

"Now the Tiger was matched with a boy out of Camden named Jersey Joe Walcott. Jersey Joe had boxed Elmer Ray at Rockland Palace in a benefit for the Scottsboro Boys—I remember a lead in the 'Daily Worker' that said, 'Kim Crow will be kayoed tonight when Jersey Joe Walcott and Elmer Ray meet, and so forth'—and Walcott had stopped Ray in three. I also remember describing him in my publicity release as winner of the 'White Hope' tournament in the Coney Island Velodrome, although he was no blonder than he is today.

"Well, it was a hell of a fight. Walcott knocked Fox down and rolled him onto the ring apron but the Tiger rolled back and got up and flattened Jersey Joe in the eighth. It was a vest-pocket war, and if they got $200 apiece out of it they were doing very well for those days.

"There was another match between Walcott and a light-heavyweight named George Brothers, a former amateur champion owned by George Gainsford, who has Robinson today. It frightens me to think what the boys earned in that one, because that night the house was the size of a private crowd at a cockfight.

Older And A Lot Wiser

"Jersey Joe knocked Brothers down three times, bing, bing, bing. Up in the gallery they were shouting 'That's all, don't get up George,' and they were ready to walk out, laughing. That Brothers got up and spat out a mouthful of teeth and took one sneering look at the crowd and walked in and gave Walcott an eight-round licking.

"It seems to me that the Walcott of today is exactly the same fighter we had around Rockland Palace, only older and more mature and, possibly but not necessarily, a little smarter. He's the same fighter, though, a guy who walks in, shuffling, and when he throws a punch that connects, the other guy falls down, no matter whether his name is Joe Louis or Ezzard Charles.

VANCOUVER OUT AS HOME FOR SEAL FRANCHISE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver hasn't got a chance to obtain the San Francisco franchise in the Pacific Coast Baseball League, although Seals owner Paul Fagan is closing shop.

"San Francisco is the second best franchise to our own in the league," Emil Sick, president of Seattle Rainiers, parent organization of Vancouver Capilanos, said Thursday.

"Paul Fagan is committed to carry on or sell to someone who will. This will all be straightened out before long. I am afraid there isn't a chance that the franchise will be transferred."

Stamps Get Heath As Riders Waive Rights

Ottawa Rough Riders, who made a thin showing last week-end against Toronto Argos, will have a chance to add feathers to their caps this week-end.

They are set for two contests with powerful Montreal Alouettes, in Ottawa Saturday and in Montreal Sunday. The "Gentle Alouettes" are considered a sick lot this year—even if they did take a 37-6 clanging from Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the opening game of the Big Four football contests.

Wes Brown, secretary-treasurer of the Ottawa club, said last night that his club had picked up waivers on the Tiger-Cats' Stan Wolkowski, released this week by Hamilton.

For a few hours, the Riders also had another quarterback.

They picked up Stan Heath from the Tiger-Cats, also on waivers, but renounced their claim when they discovered Hamilton coach Carl Voyles had inadvertently promised him to Calgary Stampede first.

Heath, recovering from a pre-season injury, will fill in for injured Keith Spait with the Stamps. The bullet-passing youngster from Toledo, O., pitched Hamilton into first place in the Big Four last season.

In Wolkowski, the Riders got Heath's understudy last season and a handyman who can fill in at other backfield posts and in an end spot.

FULL SCHEDULE

All three major western teams are set to play two games from Saturday to Monday. Saskatchewan Roughriders will play the Stampede at Calgary Saturday and Winnipeg Blue Bombers will play Edmonton Eskimos at Edmonton.

On Monday night, the Blue Bombers will play the Stampede at Calgary and the Roughriders face the Eskimos at Edmonton.

Young Peter Bentley of Vancouver surprised everybody by ousting medalist Ralph Whaley of Seattle, one up.

Others advancing in the semi-final round were former champion J. Edgar Green of Seattle, who defeated J. W. Sharp of Vancouver on the 18th, and N. Wilkinson, Vancouver, by defeating fellow-townsmen Hillyard Lyle on the 21st.

WATER PROVINCE

Quebec Province has about 71,000 square miles covered by water.

NEW YORK (UP)—Teddy Waltham, Great Britain's hefty boxing commissioner, has opened a campaign for a world committee which would see eye to eye on all championship bouts.

"Please understand that we aren't here to pick up a row with anybody," the former referee hastily added. "All I want to do is see the N.B.A. and New York State commissions and suggest a few ideas."

He also expects to see "a more experienced Turpin" defeat "a fitter Ray Robinson."

"Now take the Kid Gavilan-Billy Graham fight," Waltham said. "That actually was for the U.S. welterweight title. Our Eddie Thomas, the United Kingdom and British Empire champ, beat Graham two years ago and lost himself in June to Charles Humez of France. Humez is the rightful world challenger—in our book."

That's one example of the chaos from which Waltham seeks to bring some order. Before leaving England he wrote to Abe Greene, commissioner of the N.B.A., and Eddie Eagan of the New York State Athletic Commission. He aims to get together with them as soon as possible.

"One big thing about our rules is that the return bout clause is prohibited," Waltham said. "And there haven't been any professional ring deaths for a great many years. Our boys are subjected to a thorough examination if ever they show signs of chronic concussion—that's your word for 'punch drunk.' No boxer who is knocked out or stopped by a T.K.O. can fight until he has another checkup."

GENERAL AGREEMENT

Waltham smiled. "All good rules, don't you think? And plenty of U.S. managers have complimented us on them. But as I say, we don't propose to trespass on your regulations. All we're after is some general agreement for world championship bouts."

While sweating out his session with the boxing powers here, Waltham is getting Turpin acquainted with American ring rules. He did the same thing with Ray Robinson when he fought Randy in London.

"Ray may have left his title behind but he also left a host of friends," Waltham said. "He is a fine ambassador of the sport and in Britain we still place the sport above the individual."

O'Doul To Be Honored At Seals Finale

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—San Francisco baseball fans picked up invitations along the grapevine today to attend an informal "farewell" for Seal manager Frank (Lefty) O'Doul Sunday at the final games of the season.

The "Day," a mushrooming of sentiment among O'Doul's many friends in the area, took hold with fans who have followed the Seal manager through his 17 years as skipper of the Seals.

O'Doul will officially be out of a job after Sunday's double-header. Seal owner Paul Fagan has stated his intention to cut all but four office workers off the payroll after Sunday's P.C.L. finale.

O'Doul will also be honored unofficially at a breakfast at the Fairmont Hotel Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

His 17-year period at the Seal helm is tops in longevity for a manager in the Pacific Coast League.

COWICHAN BAY CLOSURE EASED FOR FISHERMEN

Island federal fisheries chief J. F. Tait of Nanaimo today announced that the closed area in Cowichan Bay has been reduced to give sport-fishermen added waters to seek the current supply of spring salmon and coho.

Tait announced the decision following a meeting with Cowichan Bay Salmon Club officials, bay merchants and George Island Warren, island publicity commissioner.

The boundary line is still anchored to the north end of the C.N.R. wharf at the south, but it has been swung over in line with the rock slide on Mount Tzouhalem.

"That's about 1,000 feet from the original north point at Skinner Bluff and allows fishing in what is considered good fishing waters," said Lee Hallberg, former salmon club president.

As spokesman for the bay's businessmen, Hallberg expressed thanks to the fisheries officials for their co-operation in this move.

U.S. CONCEIVES NEW ATOMIC WAR

Destruction Of Red Air Force First Goal In Event Of Third World War

WASHINGTON (UP)—New developments in atomic warfare have put air force strategic bombing plans under serious re-examination in the Pentagon, it was learned today.

These plans have called for rapid destruction of about 70 Russian industrial targets beginning immediately at the outbreak of a war.

Now the emphasis is shifting to missions directly related to protection of America against atomic attack and to support of ground forces in western Europe.

Russian long-range air force now is judged capable of dealing violent blows to the U.S. and quick destruction of that Red air force in the event of war thus becomes the No. 1 goal of the strategic air command, according to high air force sources. At the same time, a new air

Leniency Plea Fails Elderly Woman Convicted Of Bootlegging In Saanich

Counsel J. Ronald Grant's plea for leniency on the grounds "my client is 86, is under doctor's care and charged with a first offense," still cost Miss Pina Roffni, 3479 Bethune Street, a $300 fine for bootlegging.

This was in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon when Mr. Grant pleaded guilty for Miss Roffni to the charge of unlawfully keeping liquor for sale.

Counsel paid the fine for his client, who did not appear. Default of payment would have meant a six-month jail term.

Sgt. Cecil Pearce conducted the raid on Miss Roffni's home last Sunday night after she had sold a case of beer for $4.50. A quantity of liquor seized was ordered confiscated.

For being in charge of a car while his driving was impaired by alcohol, Horace Paul, Saanich Indian, was fined $200. His license was suspended for one year.

Through counsel Arthur Dawe, Paul pleaded not guilty. After his father had driven a truck into a ditch, Horace had been trying to drive it out when police arrived on the scene.

Alexander Smart, 3360 Burns Street, was found guilty on a charge of threatening his wife. He was bound over to keep the peace for six months and was ordered to post a $500 bond. Smart's counsel was Joseph McKenna.

Story of Lawrence Tapley, 2183 Beaver Road, that he was rushing a person who had missed a bus to Patricia Bay to catch a plane failed to win him a reduced fine for exceeding the 50-m.p.h. speed limit. The fine was $20. Stanley Moore, 1007 Arcadia Street, was given another month to straighten up payment of back wages to an employee. He earlier pleaded guilty to a charge under the Semi-Monthly Payment of Wages Act.

Former U.S. Envoy, Author Passes At 84

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—James W. Gerard, 84, U.S. ambassador to Germany prior to the United States' entry into the First World War, died Thursday at his summer home here. He had been ill several days.

His assignment to the Germany of Kaiser Wilhelm was one of the most ticklish ever served by a U.S. diplomat.

Gerard was a virtual prisoner of the Germans briefly after the U.S. entered the war April 6, 1917, but eventually was allowed to leave the country.

A corporation lawyer, Gerard also was the author of a number of books.

Gerard suffered from a bronchial ailment and relatives said his heart apparently failed.

Only recently his latest book was published. It was entitled "My Eighty-three Years in America."

His wife, his only close survivor, was at his bedside when he died.

Yukon Breweries Must Pay Fines

VANCOUVER (CP)—A scheme to supply people of the Yukon with cheaper beer has received a temporary setback in police court here.

Three syndicates formed to build a brewery in the Yukon were fined by Magistrate W. W. B. McInnes for raising money in British Columbia without a broker's license. Three salesmen and the sales manager of the syndicates were also fined.

All defendants, including the syndicates, pleaded guilty.

Fined $100 each were Yukon (Vancouver) Brewery Syndicate and Yukon (Lake of Woods) Brewery Syndicates, No. 1 and No. 2.

L. A. Bowes of Vancouver, sales manager, was fined $500 or three months. Philip Penn, Stanley James Borland and C. C. Dan, all of Vancouver, were fined $100 each or 30 days.

Ultra-Modern Robins

Our people at the Kingston plant enjoyed watching a couple of robins build a nest with shreds of aluminum foil. The robins seemed delighted to find their new building material so easy on the wings, so soft, so cozy. But . . . A wind arose. The nest was so light that it blew away. The robins rebuilt with the same material, but more firmly anchored.

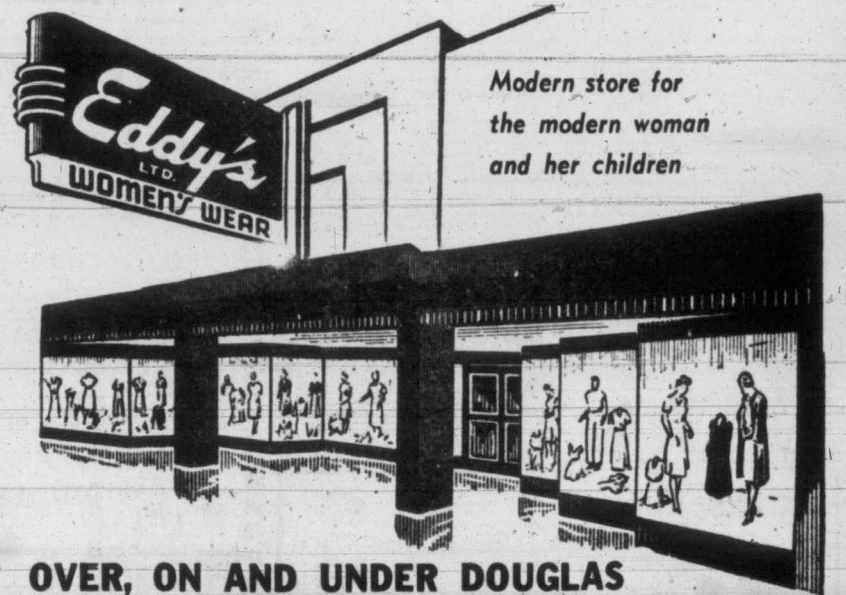

While we have no ambition to supply the world's robins with nesting material, we are eager to provide aluminum for home-building humans — and for the thousand other uses of this modern metal. Therefore, our huge expansion programme in Quebec and British Columbia: Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Bell Retorts 'Vicious Attack' Unjustified

Compensation Board Critics 'Bitter'

Adam Bell, chairman of B.C.'s Workmen's Compensation Board, took the witness stand Thursday to testify before Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, who is now sitting here to conclude a two-year study of the compensation set-up.

Mr. Bell concerned himself mainly with a defense of himself and his board. He claimed many preceding witnesses had made "vicious and vitriolic attacks" on the board and had practically accused its members of "culpable homicide."

Mr. Bell made specific reference to charges laid against the board by Dr. W. N. Kemp. He said the doctor's testimony had been filled with bitterness because he had been discharged from the board in 1947.

Dealing with problems of the board, Mr. Bell maintained operation was seriously hampered by lack of space.

Rev. N. J. Godkin, assisted by Rev. S. J. Wickens, will officiate at services in St. Michael's and All Angels' Church at 3, Saturday. The funeral will leave Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2:30 for the church.

$30,000 Question Posed For Judge

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court Chambers has been requested to interpret an ambiguous residue clause in the will of Lucy Gibbons, spinster, formerly of 159 Cook Street, who died last April leaving an estate of approximately $30,000 to various charitable organizations in Victoria.

The clause dealt with benefits left to the Rainbow Christian Fellowship of Victoria.

J. F. Gouge, representing Dr. J. E. Rowell and Miss A. Campbell, executors of the estate, applied Thursday for an interpretation.

OFFSHOOT OF U.S. BROADCASTING

Canada Must Control Television

WINNIPEG (CP)—Canadian television will have to be brought under public control, A. D. Dunton, chairman of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said Thursday night.

Mr. Dunton was addressing the third annual conference of the Institute of Public Administration of Canada on the background of the Massey Commission on Arts and Sciences.

He said if television in Canada were not brought under public control it would become essentially non-Canadian. The pressures and pulls on Canada in the field of radio broadcasting had to be considered and met. Otherwise television would become an offshoot of U.S. broadcasting.

Canada might develop greater production powers and take better care of its people, but it wouldn't be much of a nation unless the means of communication among Canadians were also effectively developed.

Dr. Norman A. MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia, defended the Massey commission's recommendation that the present system of radio broadcasting be retained. Dr. MacKenzie said it was his opinion that but for the action of the Canadian government, radio programs like the film industry would have to rely almost exclusively on U.S. sources.

Canadians would then have received a great deal of incidental information of "an inevitably slanted nature."

Artificial Moon For Space Station

LONDON (AP)—A German rocket engineer said today that Russia is racing the West on a project to set up a military space station 300 miles from the surface of the earth.

H. H. Kogge of Stuttgart said it is "an open secret" that "the West and East are both working on this project with the greatest energy."

He told the Second International Congress on Astronautics

—space navigation—that such an artificial moon could be placed in the sky at a cost of about $300,000,000.

Such a space station, rocketed into an orbit around the Earth, could be used as a platform for launching guided missiles with atomic warheads. It would be invaluable as a military observation post.

Scientists interested in space flight point out that it also could be used as a take-off point for rocket trips to the moon and other planets of the solar system.

Set To Talk Trieste's Future

LONDON (Reuters)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today that the Italian and Yugoslavian governments are ready to discuss the future of Trieste-Adriatic territory disputed by both countries. The two governments have informed Britain and the United States to that effect, he added. The U.S. and Britain, as two of three joint administering authorities for the 233-square-mile free territory on the northern tip of the Adriatic, declared in 1948 that Trieste should eventually be handed back to Italy.

Italian Prime Minister Alcide de Gasperi will visit Washington next month. Political observers in Trieste reported today that he will likely urge the U.S. to call for the return to Italy of the whole free territory—including the zone now occupied by Yugoslavia.

CANADA SUFFERS THROUGH LACK OF STANDARD MILITARY ARMS

LONDON (CP)—The delay in standardizing the military equipment of the Western Allies often leaves Canada with a painful choice between Britain and the United States, says Dr. O. Solandt.

The chief of Canada's defense-research board told British reporters Thursday that when it becomes necessary Canada tends to choose American patterns, largely for industrial and economic reasons.

The only way out of the dilemma, Dr. Solandt said, is to get agreement on military requirements before production is far advanced.

Injured Driver Refuses To Attend
Inquest In Luxton Collision

A verdict of culpable neglect was brought today against Carl H. Baillie, 730 Vancouver Street, by a coroner's jury probing the July 26 death of Mrs. Victor W. Jopp, Luxton Road, in a two-car crash on the Sooke Road near Colwood Corners.

Baillie, driver of one of the cars involved, had declined to attend the inquest, Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, told the jury. He was injured in the accident. Mrs. Jopp was instantly killed in the crash. She was with her husband in the back seat of a 1935 model car driven by their son-in-law, Herbert J. Bing, Sooke. Mrs. Bing, still confined to St. Joseph's Hospital, was in the front seat beside him. They were proceeding toward Sooke. Baillie was alone in his 1950 model car coming toward Victoria, evidence showed.

An eye-witness, Weida Tindall, 70 Kelly Road, said the Baillie car passed her and a friend at a "terrific rate of speed," staying in the middle of the road while rounding a curve. Asked if she could judge the speed, witness said she thought it was over 50 m.p.h.

Mr. Bing said that in rounding the curve, at about 30 m.p.h., lights of a car suddenly appeared before him. The last he remembered was swinging hard to the right.

Constable Gordon MacFarlane, R.C.M.P. Highway Patrol, said the right side of the Bing car was five feet off the main traveled portion of the road when he arrived at the scene. The front of the Baillie car, he said, was seven and one-half feet over the north side of the centre line of the road at an almost right-angle position.

Residents Plead For Protection

PORT RENFREW—Nine residents of the "Island," who face isolation if the San Juan River washes out its banks adjacent to their property, have petitioned the Public Works Department for construction of three small wing dams to divert the river from their property.

They fear that with the first freshet the banks will be washed away.

The residents complain that while the department informed them last February that nothing could be done until the river was low, the river is now as low as it will go and still nothing has been done.

"We urge immediate action," they wrote.

Two-Bottle-A-Day Man

BELFAST (CP)—A waiter who was given a prison term here for stealing 4,336 bottles of beer from a cafe in the Northern Ireland capital, confessed that he had stolen two bottles every night for years by tying them to his suspenders.

Graphite, one of the softest minerals, is composed of pure carbon.

Royal Jubilee Approved For Higher Study

Royal Jubilee Hospital has been accredited by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons for approved advanced training in numerous specialist branches.

This training will be in general surgery, pediatrics, obstetrics and gynaecology, and diagnostic radiology. Dr. E. H. W. Elkington, hospital chief of staff, announced today.

The training program for young doctors seeking certification as specialists is their final year of study.

Granting approval depends on the volume of work available for teaching purposes, and interest shown by the active medical staff in giving lectures, holding clinics, and giving personal attention to the post-graduate students.

CBC Broadcasts Bring Pathetic Red-Zone Reply

Letters, smuggled out of Iron Curtain countries—"so pathetic they bring you heart"—have been received in reply to the CBC's International Service, Dr. Ira Dilworth, general supervisor, said in Victoria today.

Some of the letters have come via Venezuela, he said.

"Our mail from Czechoslovakia has fallen off greatly since the Communists came to power in 1947," Dr. Dilworth added. "We used to get 1,500 letters a month; now we are lucky if we get three. People write to us from Czechoslovakia at great peril."

Work of the International Service is to project Canada abroad, he said, to "try to tell an interesting and, at the same time, true story of what goes on in Canada, politically, economically, culturally and educationally."

Programs are broadcast in 15 different languages and the service has 50 free lance reporters in various parts of Canada, in addition to a staff of 250 at Montreal and Sackville, N.B.

PARK GARDENERS VOLUNTEER AID

Men of the city parks' department are really interested in their job.

Twenty-two of them have volunteered their time and talents all day Saturday and Sunday morning to landscape Spencerhouse on Cook Street, Parks Administrator W. H. Warren, who also offered his services, announced today.

No funds were provided for landscaping in the general building appropriation, he said.

Langford Pupils Study In Shifts, Drop All Frills

Shift system for Grade 1 students at Langford School, first instituted in this area, is beginning to work smoothly, P. G. Strachan, Sooke School Board secretary, said today.

"It is not desirable, but it is working well, and teachers are confident that they can cover the necessary work thoroughly," he said.

The first shift attends classes from 9 to 12, and the second from 12:15 to 3:15. Some of the "frills" may be eliminated, he said, but parents have co-operated well and can make up in the home the activities missed at school.

"They realize our need for extra buildings," he said.

With accommodation a serious problem generally in the Sooke school district, a $800,000 by-law for school buildings was prepared last spring, and was reduced to $600,000. Work on this was halted when the federal government asked for a reduction in all non-essential building.

A third revision was made, and a $350,000 by-law to cover immediate needs is now being prepared for presentation to taxpayers this fall, Mr. Strachan said. It will provide for a new school at Sassenos, and alterations at Langford, Colwood, Sooke, Bear Creek, Harris Creek, Belmont Hill, and Milnes Landing High Schools.

Urges Speed Signs Remain On Pandora

Retention of the 15-miles-per-hour signs on Pandora Street at Vancouver, in the interests of children's safety, was asked of the city today by Brother G. P. Lyons, principal of St. Louis College.

Brother Lyons wrote that he understood the 15-m.p.h. signs would be removed when the "Stop-When-Occupied" signs were installed.

"Although the pedestrian crossing may not be occupied, a motorist ignorant of the danger and traveling at 30 miles per hour may see a youngster too late to prevent an accident," Brother Lyons wrote.

Inquiry into the death of Arthur I. Walden, 70 Maddock Avenue, who died following a Sooke Road crash on Sunday, will be held Tuesday.

Princess Agrees To Empire Radio Broadcast Here

Message Will Follow Luncheon, Oct. 15

Special arrangements are being made for Princess Elizabeth to broadcast from Victoria a short radio message to the whole of the British Commonwealth, the same as her father, George VI, did when he visited here in 1939.

Her Royal Highness has consented to say a few words following a provincial government luncheon to be given in her honor at the Empress Hotel on Oct. 15.

Provincial Secretary W. T. Straith, in charge of arrangements for the royal visit, explained today that by the time their Royal Highnesses arrive in Victoria they will have been absent from home for nearly a month.

"There will be terrific interest in the broadcast, of course, all across Canada," Mr. Straith stated. "And it was thought the people of Great Britain would be cheered to hear her voice."

IN COURT

VICTORIA Stanley A. Barker-Letica pleaded not guilty to a charge of obtaining credit from the Island U-Drive Ltd. by means of a worthless cheque. He was remanded to Sept. 11 for trial.

Charles F. Gray, Gordon Head camp soldier, changed his earlier plea of not guilty to one of guilty on a charge of doing extensive willful damage at the New England Hotel during the last week-end. He was remanded to Sept. 20.

David Hoey, 592 Gorge Road, was fined $30 and Andrew Murdoch, 1900 Belmont Avenue, was fined $25 for driving cars without being holders of current year's driver's licenses.

William J. L. Todd, 315 Beckley Avenue, was fined $50 for driving a vehicle while his driver's license was suspended.

Fines of $35 each were imposed against John A. Bell, 600 Dallas Road, Stanley F. James, 3942 Cumberland, and Alastair T. Mackay, 2975 McAnnally Road, for the offence of careless driving.

'Unwarranted Intrusion' Resented In Buttle Probe

Selfish Interests Seek To Preserve
Lovely Lake For Own Use, Davey Charges

Certain American individuals and societies opposing the damming of Buttle Lake are not true conservationists, as they claim, but people with "special interests," charged Herbert W. Davey, K.C., counsel for B.C. Power Commission, addressing the final hearing today of the public inquiry into the applications for development of Buttle power.

Mr. Davey singled out Will J. Reid and Harvey E. Harris, two Californians who spend much time at Buttle, for special criticism.

"These men, he charged, had selfish interests in appearing at the hearing. Referring to their financial standing, he declared: "What do they know of the economics of this province? Their only concern is to keep a park exclusive for their moments of leisure, paid for by the wealth they have accumulated in the United States."

"DOMESTIC AFFAIR"

"We have no objection to having any person from any part of the world come before this hearing," Mr. Davey continued, "but we feel their advice should be in the interests of the people of British Columbia. We resent individuals and societies coming here to effect an unwarranted intrusion in the domestic affairs of this province."

Mr. Davey said attempts had been made by propaganda to control and decide the issue now being heard by Water Comptroller E. H. Tredcroft.

"Your decision will effect the whole economy of this province," Mr. Davey told the comptroller.

He stressed the importance of cheap electric power, and maintained that Buttle Lake was the best place for storing water to further develop output of the John Hart project.

WONT SPOIL LAKE

He insisted the lake would not be spoiled by the commission. He maintained, in fact, that since the commission would put a road through, the lake would be enjoyed by more people than ever before.

Mr. Davey insisted that at present the lake was only a rich man's playground. He said that not one British Columbian in 1,000 had ever seen Buttle.

Holding B.C. Power Commission as the real conservationist involved in the dispute, Mr. Davey declared:

"As I see it, conservation implies that the wisest and most beneficial use be made of our natural resources. That is what the commission is interested in."

Ontario Forecasts Great Crop Year

QUEEN'S PARK (CP)—Ontario's agricultural harvest will exceed all previous optimistic estimates with the total value being close to $1,500,000,000, Agriculture Minister Kennedy said today.

"Barring early frost, I fully expect this province will produce this year an agricultural crop of from $1,350,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 in value. Last year's bumper crop was valued at $1,150,000,000," said Mr. Kennedy.

Wants Definite Proof

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations said today the time has come for definite proof whether Russia's cease-fire suggestion for Korea was made seriously.

The U.N. official held a press conference at which he agreed with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's idea for moving the cease-fire talks to another place and making a new start.

COMPLICATED CALENDAR

The Island of Bali uses two calendars; the Hindu one of 12 months and the Balinese calendar of only 210 days.

"Wish I wuz in high school," says the little guy, and you smile with satisfaction to think that the youngster has ambition and wants to get ahead in his studies. Then he spoils it all with another wish—"and that we lived in Esquimalt." Out there school alterations haven't been completed and the students have been given extended holidays until next Monday at least.

Almost anything is good enough for a kid to applaud if it makes the summer vacation a little longer. But there isn't any inclination even among the juveniles, to buy extra holidays at the price paid in Nova Scotia. In that province schools have remained closed because of a polio epidemic. The news, even without mention of fatalities, tells a tale of tragedy.

VICTORIA IS lucky. So far this summer the city has had only two reported cases of polio and both of them originated out of town. Last year one case only was listed and an outbreak of serious proportions hasn't occurred since 1947, when there were 10.

Still, the health authorities and the public keep their fingers crossed. This is the season for that disease and its cause and transmission remain mysteries. All the fine work of the big foundations haven't yet solved the problem of infantile paralysis. Research continues, though, and while science keeps up its inquiries there remains hope that some means will be found of beating polio; just as other sicknesses that once baffled medicine are being beaten.

This week in Denmark the production of a vaccine which seems to combat the disease was reported during the international poliomyelitis conference. And in various centres certain work can be done to assist victims.

WHEN YOU TALK to Dr. Joe Gayton, city health officer, about it, he'll tell you this community is fortunate. Our figures don't compare with any number of cities of our size in the U.S. or other parts of Canada. He offers no specific explanation. Maybe, he says, it's the wind that keeps the air stirring. This may dissipate sources of infection that can be air or water-borne.

Another medical man who talks in layman's terms suggests the hot weather and sunshine, two climatic features which are often present when polio strikes, could in themselves be strong counter-agents. There's little, he believes, to beat sunshine in the fight against sickness.

Health authorities do advise certain primary precautions when polio appears. They urge close attention to personal hygiene—thorough washing of hands before eating, which is good health procedure as well as routine table manners. They suggest that food be kept clean and covered, which is simple horse sense.

THEY ADVOCATE close attention to symptoms—headaches, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, extreme tiredness, nervousness and troubles with breathing or swallowing, and they urge the sick person to go to bed. Those symptoms are pretty general. Most of them could apply to what they call "flu." In either case, bed's a good place for the person concerned.

They tell you, too, not to get overtired by hard play, exercise, work or travel, not to get chilled or swim too long in cold water.

In addition you shouldn't use another person's towel, dishes or tableware. I'd go whole hog and say toothbrush, too.

Let's agree Victoria is lucky on the polio score, but let's try to insure that luck with a little attention to what the authorities say.

R.C.A.F. Speeds Search For Pilot Lost 2 Months

EDMONTON (CP)—The R.C.A.F. today again sent search planes out in low-altitude sweeps over desolate north country in the hunt for Bush Pilot Johnny Bourassa—if he is still alive. Bourassa started a 200-mile trek to civilization last May 23.

The search, re-opened yesterday in the Northwest Territories after it had been called off more than 2½ months ago for want of clues, produced negative results the first day.

Spurred on by the knowledge of Bourassa's intended route and the optimism of his pilot friends who said he could have survived 3½ months in the wilderness, the R.C.A.F. continued to search with renewed vigor.

Four R.C.A.F. planes and an aircraft from Associated Airways—for whom the bush pilot once worked—are in the search area, flying out of Yellowknife, N.W.T. Ground search parties, to be dropped on lakes in the region, are being organized in Yellowknife.

Penny Willing To Forget Budget After New Find

By PENNY SAVER

While trotting around on my usual beat today looking for some-thing new, or reasonable, or both, one of my friends who is in-variably popping up with articles just a bit nicer than the general run, called to me.

"Say, Penny," he said. "See what we have for fall." With one mighty swoop I was upon the find. It was a purse!

Such a creation I have never seen before without a 25 or 30 dollar price tag added for decoration.

To begin with, it was in a fine houndstooth check, excellent quality material, and bound with leather. You might say it was pouch shaped, but there was an added something that gave it more dignity than an ordinary pouch bag. The strap, also of leather, is adjustable.

My friend informed me that although this one happened to be made of check they can be made of any material the buyer wishes.

So, if you are making a skirt or suit and have some material left over it can certainly be put to good use.

These treasures can be made for 15 dollars. A bit over Penny's budget, but a sound investment for fall and the seasons to follow.

Ever go in a restaurant and eye the smart wicker baskets they have for crackers, bread and buns? Found some for sale today starting at 75 pennies.

Larger baskets were 95 cents and serving trays were on display for $1.95. They come in both round and oval shapes and would also do as sandwich trays. With all the marriages that are coming along this month one of these baskets would make a lovely shower or wedding gift.

Another gift that would catch the fancy of the modern bride is salt and pepper sets with an added jar for jam, or any other mealtime extra, in a new glazed glassware that would rival Mexican pottery for color. Set costs $2.95. Also encased in this novelty ware is a medium-size bowl. It sells for $2.95.

When it comes to making mocasins, the Indians have all machines on earth beat. Shaped in elk skin and all decked in traditional fringe and beads, they are selling for $4.75. They stand a lot of wear and are a welcome sight when you stagger home at the end of the day with sore feet.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

High School Senior Never Has Been Asked For A Date

Q. "I am a high school senior this fall and I have never been asked for a date. I don't know if it's my personality or size. I am small—very skinny (through excessive dieting). I hate to gain weight because of the terrible uncomfortable feeling of eating more. Also each time I gain I get big around the waist, stomach and hips. . . . It seems that I have no bust. Please tell me what to do."

A. In the first place do gain some weight. It is not healthy for a young girl to be so thin. Also you are less attractive that way. With a gain your bust will fill out and your legs and arms and neck will become lovelier. While putting the pounds on take two waist, two hip and two abdominal exercises. This will give you a routine of six exercises daily. Do each one about twenty times.

Since I do not know you I cannot say about your personality, but maybe you are shy and self-conscious around boys. Just be natural and friendly and talk to them and show some interest in them when you have the opportunity. Maybe you are conscious of your thinness. Boys like friendly, natural girls who make them feel comfortable.

Do not try to eat three huge meals daily but five smaller ones spaced through the day.

Q. "My knees are very knobby. They seem to be all bones. Also my calf is small."

A. Some knees are bonier than others and there is nothing we can do to change the bony structure. However, everything you say sounds to me as though you are thin. I believe that a gain in weight would help your problems. You can also take exercises. Ballet dancing would help, so will swimming. Also all exercises which require you to rise high on your toes are good. Do deep knee bends, staying on your toes during the bends and the rise back to straight knees, heels lifted off of the floor.

Q. "I have practically no bust. I am 13. Does this mean that I never will have one?"

A. Not at all! Girls develop at different ages, so do not worry.

Former Ottawa School Girl 'Now British Star

LONDON (CP)—A cherished dream born in an Ottawa school-room a few years ago, has been realized by Rona Anderson, 25-year-old British film and television star.

Rona—named after a tiny island on the west coast of Scotland near Skye—went to Canada as a wartime Scottish evacuee and from her first part in a school play determined to become an actress.

When she finished school, Rona's first and only Canadian job—while waiting a ship home—was counting dirty dollar bills scheduled for scrapping.

"I did try for a job as a waitress, but I was unlucky," she said.

After an uneventful first in repertory, the five-foot, five-inch honey-blond was tested by Sir Alexander Korda for the part of Elora MacDonald in the technical film "Bonnie Prince Charlie." Rona lost the part but the test brought her a contract with a British film studio.

Since then she has been given leading and supporting roles in at least nine films including "Sleeping Car to Trieste," with Jean Kent; "Whispering Smith," with Richard Carlson, and "Flood Tide," a film on Scotland's ship-building.

"I'm always the good girl—which gets a bit dull," said Rona. "I've been called Mary and Joan three times. In three successive films I've been nearly strangled, nearly hanged and nearly garroted. But I love it."

Rona prefers films to the stage—and well she might. In "Flood Tide" she starred with Gordon Jackson, a Scot from Glasgow. Early this year they were married.

At present, Gordon is playing in "Seagulls Over Sorrento," a London hit starring Ronald Shiner that has already run for more than a year.

Mrs. G. P. Clarke left the city by plane Wednesday morning for Montreal where she will spend three months visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Puleston Clarke, Hudson Heights. Prior to her departure a farewell tea was given for her by Mrs. J. L. Ford, 14 Linden Avenue.

Mill Bay Shares Interest In Marriage In This City

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was the scene recently of the marriage of Helena Elizabeth Makepeace Garnett, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Garnett, Mill Bay, and Frank Edward Warren, eldest son of Mrs. A. Woronocki, Victoria. Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiated. The bride entered the church to the strains of the wedding march, played by C. C. Warren.

A gown of ivory satin brocade featuring lily-point sleeves and a sweetheart neckline was worn by the bride. An extremely full skirt-accented the fitted bodice. Her three-quarter length veil of the embroidered net was held by a beaded bandeau and her only jewelry was a garnet pendant, gift of the groom.

Mrs. G. M. Garnett, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She chose a gown of net over mauve satin complemented by a bouquet of yellow gladioli and mauve asters. Bridesmaid, Miss Anna Earnshaw, was gowned in lace over embroidered turquoise satin. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli and white sweet peas.

Mr. Garnett gave his daughter in marriage, and G. M. Garnett, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were A. Woronocki, and T. Woronocki, brothers of the groom.

During the signing of the register Mrs. V. Barkley sang "Because," accompanied by Mr. Warren.

A three-tier wedding cake, centred the bride's table at the reception in King's Road hall, Mrs. A. Woronocki, mother of the groom, made the cake which was topped by frosted wedding bells. Rev. M. Westmacott proposed the toast.

A corsage of pink rosebuds complemented the going-away ensemble worn by the bride upon leaving for her honeymoon in Los Banos, Calif. She chose a squirrel grey suit with complementing accessories.

Kootenay Belle Continues In Strong Demand

VANCOUVER—An end of week caution crept into the market today with prices mixed. In oils, Atlantic showed some activity, adding 5 cents at 3.00, but British lost a similar amount at 3.90. Others were unchanged.

In base metals, Kootenay Belle established a new high at 1.38, up 2 cents, while Quatsino was also in new high ground at .65, up 4 cents. Some profits were taken in Silver 1.16, Van R. 98 and Cronin Babine 63. Western Uranium added 10 cents at 4.70.

Alberta Distillers continued yesterday's late rise, jumping to 3.25, up 10 cents. Lumber was slightly easier.

Atlantic Favored
TORONTO (CP)—Stock market prices continued mixed today towards the session's close. The steady advance in the last nine days faltered in early dealings.

Although a majority of issues showed small gains, the exchange's index of 20 selected issues slipped about half a point. Papers, retail stores and liquors climbed against the general trend. Utilities, steels, banks, manufacturing companies and miscellaneous industrials held firm. Agriculture, construction, foods and refining oils turned mixed. Textiles weakened. Golds held firm on early afternoon gains.

Western oils developed little trend. While selective buying boosted a wide list of issues, an equal number eased in active trading. Ajax, Atlantic, Devon, Leduc, Long Island Petroleum, Redwater-Piccadilly and Scurry were in demand.

Base metals dipped slightly. Consolidated Smelters headed the down trend with a loss of more than a point.

Donnacona Leads
MONTREAL (CP)—Securities pushed irregularly ahead today in comparatively active trading. All industrial groups participated in the trend, with the exception of beverages, steels and banks which were mixed, senior oils which were a shade easier, and carriers which were unchanged.

Donnacona led the rise when it jumped 4 1/2 points to 32 1/2, while International Coal rose four points to a new high of 60. Mines advanced over a wide front in heavy trading and gains ranged to as much as 34 cents, but the majority of them were pennies.

Western oils fell in line with mines.

Wall Street Higher
NEW YORK (AP)—Selective strength kept the stock market on the higher side today. The advance was helped along by the railroads in early phases of trading, and then the market continued higher on its own after a few large carriers held the railroad division back.

Nickel Plate dropped $2 and held back the railroad section. Western Union advanced to between $2 and $3 while Dow Chemical shot up to around $4 a share at one time.

Steels and motors remained practically unchanged all day, rubbers advanced, and aircrafts moved ahead.

Canadian issues were mixed. Distillers Seagraves gained 1/2. Dome Mines and Hiram Walker were mixed up 1/2. Canadian Pacific increased 1/2 and International Nickel dropped 1/2. McIntyre was unchanged.

On the curb Lake Shore and Royalite Oil were up 1/4 and Giant Yellow Knife gained 1/4.
